DRESSING THEM UP

The filtration plant and the pumping station of the water department on the Pawtucket boulevard are being thoroughly painted and repaired under the direction of Commissioner Salmon. The buildings have presented a rather uninviting appearance since last winter's series of heavy storms, hence, the general renovations.

FIREWORKS PROHIBITED

Law Forbids Use of Fireworks Night Before and on Sabbath Day

Despite the fact that July 4 falls on Sunday, the laws of Massachusetts forbid the use or discharge of fireworks or firecrackers on that day except by special permission, according to Supt. Redmond Welch of the local police department. The use of fireworks or firecrackers is also prohibited by law for the night before. The law in this case, as quoted by Supt. Welch, states that "except on the 4th of July or on a day celebrated as such the use or discharge of fireworks or firecrackers without permission from the persons designated to grant permits, is prohibited." Chief Saunders of the fire department is the one authorized to grant permits for the use of fireworks on Sunday, July 4, in this city, but the latter said today that he believed it is the intent

FIRST YEAR OF BONE-DRY LAW

Large Decrease in Number of Arrests for Drunkenness in Lowell

No Decrease in Number of Assault, Burglary and Larceny Cases

Amount of Gambling Greater Than in Days of Open Saloon

The first year of nation-wide prohibition has ended and a start on the second year lap was made yesterday. If there were any persons who believed that the bone dry law would operate to banish crime completely and make the members of the police force but little more than conspicuous ornaments, the results, as revealed by police and court records, do not show that their expectations have been fully realized. Summarized, it may be said that the records show that there has been a very large decrease in the number of arrests for drunkenness, that the number of what may be termed the more serious crimes, such as assault, burglary and larceny, has remained about the figures of previous years, and that minor offenses have, as a whole, shown an increase.

An interesting feature of the statistics of arrests for drunkenness since January 1, this year, is contained in the fact that while there has been a large decrease from the figures for the similar months last year, the last three months of the period show an increase of 100 per cent in the number of offenders over the number for the first three months of the year.

The Official Figures

The official figures of the number of drunkenness arrests, from January to June this year, furnished by Superintendent John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection.

It has come to the commissioner's attention that there has been considerable parking of automobiles in front of the central fire station in Palmer street, as well as on the Middle street side of the building. At one of the recent large fires, the large water tower at the station was

Document Framed After Days and Nights of Struggle by Resolutions Committee Laid Before National Convention Today for Adoption
---Irish Sympathizers and Wet and Dry Forces Renew Conflict on Floor---Foremost Among Plank Came Endorsement of League and Bitter Denunciation of Republican Senate for Having Interposed "Partisan Envy and Personal Hatred" in the Way of World Peace---Declares Republicans Control Senate Only by Virtue of Money Used in Michigan Election

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Framed after days and nights of struggle with clashing interests and opinions, the resolutions committee draft of the platform was laid before the democratic national convention today for adoption. Further conflict in the forum of the convention itself was regarded as certain. Irish sympathizers among the delegates had served notice of their purpose to seek to have that plank reworded to include a flat declaration for diplomatic recognition of the Irish republic.

Bryan to Resume Fight

Decisively defeated in his efforts to force a bone dry declaration into the structure, W. J. Bryan announced his purpose of renewing the battle on the

WOULD AMEND CITY'S TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

Amendments to this city's traffic ordinance, whereby there will be a general restriction of parking in front of any fire house or within a reasonable distance of any hydrant in the congested sections of the city, are under consideration by Commissioner John F. It has come to the commissioner's attention that there has been considerable parking of automobiles in front of the central fire station in Palmer street, as well as on the Middle street side of the building. At one of the recent large fires, the large water tower at the station was somehow delayed in getting started owing to the presence of a machine near the entrance to the building. Should the parking be allowed to continue, it is possible that it would seriously interfere with the efficiency of the department in responding to an alarm for a dangerous fire.

The matter has been brought to Commissioner Salmon's attention by the chamber of commerce and he thinks that not only should the area around the central fire station be protected from traffic congestion, but around all other fire houses as well. In other cities, he says, parking within 15 to 20 feet of a hydrant is prohibited and he believes a similar rule should

LIABLE TO ARREST

Members of the local American Legion post who are still wearing the Legion buttons without clearing up their dues are liable to arrest and a fine according to word issued from Legion headquarters this morning. It had been announced a few weeks ago that the final date for payment of dues was July 1 but in this city there are many who have not cleared up their debts to the local post and who still wear the button and insignia. A round up of these men will be started soon by the Legion officers.

Text of Platform strict conformity with the constitution of the United States, embodied in which is the fundamental requirement of declaratory action by the congress before this nation may become a participant in any war."

Irish Plank Brief

The Irish plank, center of hours of committee dispute, was brief. The speaker followed a general assertion re-affirming the principle of national self-determination as a war aim which "victory established." It merely renewed "within the limitations of international committee and usage" previous expressions of the democratic party of sympathy with Irish aspirations for self-government. The Armenian plank also expressed sympathy but was silent on the question of acceptance by the United States of a mandate over that country for which the president asked authority of congress. Consistent with the constitution and American principles of the committee plank, the government should lend "every possible and proper aid" to the Armenians toward establishment of a government of their own.

To Recognize Mexico

The Mexican plank asserted that the administration, remembering in all circumstances that Mexico was an independent state, had been "unwilling either to profit by the misfortunes of the people of Mexico or to entice their future by imposing from the outside a rule on their temporarily distracted councils." Order was "gradually reappearing" there as a result, it added, and "at no time in many years have American lives and interests been so safe as they are now."

"The new Mexican government should be recognized when it has proved its ability to maintain order, signified its willingness to meet international obligations and had given foreigners in Mexico rights as well as duties," the plank continued. It served notice, that until that time "Mexico must realize the propriety of a policy that asserts the right of the United States to demand full protection for its citizens."

Sharply Censure G.A.P.

On one point throughout the whole platform committee were apparently in full accord. It sharply censured the republican congress and republican party on many counts. The financial planks condemned the "perpetual attempt of the republican party to create discontent among the holders of bonds of the government, and to drag our public finance and our banking and currency system back into the arena of party politics."

Failure to enact tax revision measure "through sheer political cowardice," was also charged against the republicans.

Republican Corruption

Claims of republican economy were branded as "false pretenses" but the attack on the republicans reached its climax in a separate plank devoted to "republican corruption."

The discussion of the "shocking disclosure of the lavish use of money" by candidates for the republican presidential nomination and the conviction of a republican senator from Michigan charged with vote-buying campaign laws, leads us to draw the inference that there is indicated "the re-entry under the auspices of republicans of money as an influential factor in elections." The republicans, the plank adds, control the senate only by virtue of the Michigan election mentioned.

The full text follows: The democratic party, in its national convention now assembled, sends greetings to the president of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, and to the people of the United States, and to the world wrought under his leadership. It suggests that the people of this great republic, emerging with imperishable honor from the severest test and strains of the greatest war in history, has earned the gratitude and gratitude of all free nations. It declares its adherence to the fundamental progressive principles of social, economic and industrial justice and advance, and purposes to resume the great work of translating these principles into effective laws, begun and carried far by the democratic administration and interrupted only when war claimed all the national energies for the single task of victory.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The democratic party favors the League of Nations as the surest, if not the only practical scheme of maintaining the present peace of the world and terminating the insupportable burden of great military and naval establishments. It was for this that America broke away from traditional isolation and spent her blood and treasure to crush a colossal scheme of conquest. It was upon it that the president of the United States, in pre-arrangement with our allies, consented to a suspension of hostilities against the Imperial German government, the armistice and granting of peace negotiated upon the definite assurance to Germany, as well as to the powers pitted against Germany, that "a general association of nations must be formed, under specific covenants, for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike."

High Tribute to Wilson

We not only congratulate the president on the vision manifested and the vigor exhibited in the prosecution of the war; but we felicitate him and his associates on the exceptional achievements at Paris involved in the adoption of a league and treaty so near akin to previously expressed American ideals and so intimately related to the aspirations of civilized peoples everywhere.

We commend the president for his courage and his high conception of good faith in steadfastly standing for the covenant agreed to by all the associated and allied nations at war with Germany, and we condemn the republican senate for its refusal to ratify the treaty merely because it was the product of democratic statesmanship, thus interposing partisan envy and personal hatred in the way of the peace and renewed prosperity of the world.

By every accepted standard of international morality the president is justified in asserting that the honor of the country is involved in this business and we point to the accusing fact that before it was determined to initiate antagonism to the treaty, the new republican chairman of the senate foreign relations committee himself publicly proclaimed that any proposition for a separate peace with Germany, such as he and his party associates thereafter reported to the senate would make us "guilty of blackest crime."

Approved What He Termed "Crime"

On May 15th last the Knox substitute for the Versailles treaty was passed by the republican senate, and this convention can contrive no more fitting characterization of its obloquy than that made in the Forum magazine of December 1915 by Henry Cabot Lodge, when he said:

"If we send our armies and young men abroad to be killed and wounded in northern France and Flanders with no result but this, our entrance into war with such an intention was a crime which nothing can justify."

The intent of congress and the intent of President Wilson was that there should be no peace until we could create a situation where no such war as this could recur. We cannot make peace except in company with our allies. It would brand us with everlasting dishonor and bring ruin to us also if we undertook to make a separate peace.

Thus to that which Mr. Lodge, in earlier months, considered "the blackest crime," he and his party in madness sought to give the sanction of law; that which 15 months ago was of "everlasting dishonor," the repu-lican party and its candidates today accept as the essence of faith.

Ratification Without Reservations

We endorse the president's view of our international obligations and his firm stand against reservations designed to cut to pieces the vital provisions of the Versailles treaty and we commend the democrats in congress for voting against resolutions for separate peace which would disgrace the nation.

We advocate the immediate ratification of the treaty without reservations which would impair its essential integrity but do not oppose the acceptance of any reservation making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the League of Nations.

Only by doing this we may retrieve the standing of this nation among the powers of the earth and recover the moral leadership which President Wilson won and which republican politicians at Washington sacrificed. Only by doing this may we hope to aid effectively in the restoration of order throughout the world and to take the place which we should assume in the front rank of spiritual, commercial and industrial advancement.

Republican View Vicious

We reject as utterly vain, if not vicious, the republican assumption that ratification of the treaty and membership in the League of Nations would in any way impair the integrity or independence of our country. The fact that the covenant has been entered into by 29 nations all as jealous of their independence as we are of ours is a sufficient repudiation of such charges. The president has declared and this convention reaffirms that all our duties and obligations as a member of the league must be fulfilled in strict conformity with the constitution of the United States, embodied in which is the fundamental requirement of declaratory action by the congress before this nation may become a participant in any way.

CONDUCT OF THE WAR

During the war President Wilson exhibited the very greatest conception of liberal Americanism. In his conduct of the war, in his general administration of his high office, was no semblance of partisan bias. He invited to Washington as his counselors and co-adjutors hundreds of the most prominent and pronounced republicans in the country. In these committees were responsibilities of the gravest import and most confidential nature. Many of them had charge of vital activities of the government.

And yet with the war successfully prosecuted and gloriously ended, the republican party in congress were applauding the mastery leadership of the president and felicitating the country on the amazing achievements of the American government and has meanly required the considerate course of the chief, by savagely damning the commander-in-chief of the army and navy by assailing nearly every public officer of every branch of the service intimately concerned in winning the war abroad and preserving the security of government at home.

Congratulates Soldiers and Sailors

We express to the soldiers and sailors of America the admiration of their fellow countrymen. Guided by the genius of such commanders as Gen. John J. Pershing, an armed force of America constituted a decisive factor in the victory and brought new lustre to flag.

We commend the patriotic men and women who sustained the efforts of their government in crucial hours of the war and contributed to the brilliant administrative success, achieved under the broad visioned leadership of the president.

FINANCIAL ACHIEVEMENTS

A review of the records of the democratic party during the administration of Woodrow Wilson presents a chapter of substantial achievements unsurpassed in the history of the republic. For 56 years before the advent of this administration periodical convulsions had impeded the industrial progress of the American people and caused incalculable loss and distress. By the enactment of the federal reserve act, the old system which bred panics, was replaced by a new system, which insured confidence. It was an indispensable factor in winning the war and today

Come in and look over the stocks of this BIGGER and BETTER STORE. Five selling floors filled with desirable merchandise and connected by two up-to-date elevators for your convenience.

It is the hope and inspiration of business. Indeed one vital danger against which the American people should keep constantly on guard is the commitment of this system to partisan enemies who struggled against its adoption and vainly attempted to retain in the hands of speculative bankers a monopoly of currency and credits of the nation. Already there are well-defined indications of an assault upon the vital principles of the system in the event of republican success in the elections in November.

Able to Finance War

Under democratic leadership the American people successfully financed their stupendous part in the greatest war of all time. The treasury wisely insisted during the war upon meeting an adequate portion of the war expenditure from current taxes and the bulk of the balance from popular loans, and, during the first full fiscal year after fighting stopped, upon meeting current expenditures from current receipts notwithstanding the new and unnecessary burdens thrown upon the treasury by the delay, obstruction and extravagance of a republican congress.

The non-partisan federal reserve authorities have been wholly free of political interferences or motives; and, in their own time and their own way, have used courageously, though cautiously, the instruments at their disposal to prevent undue expansion of credit in the country. As a result of these sound treasury and federal reserve policies, the inevitable war inflation has been held down to a minimum and the cost of living has been prevented from increasing here in proportion to the increase of other belligerent countries, according to those who are in contact with the world's commerce and exchanges.

U. S. Credit Stands Unimpaired After a year and a half of fighting

In Europe and despite another year and a half of republican obstruction at home, the credit of the government of the United States stands unimpaired, the federal reserve note is the unit of value through all the world and the United States is the one great country in the world which maintains a free gold market.

We condemn the attempt of the republican party to deprive the American people of due credit for their management and financing of the war, an achievement without parallel in the financial history of this or any other country. In this or any other war, in particular we condemn the pernicious attempt of the republican party to create discontent among the holders of bonds of the government of the United States and to drag our public finance and our banking and currency system back into the arena of party politics.

TAX REVISION

We condemn the failure of the present congress to respond to the expected demand of the war and secretaries of the treasury to revise the existing tax laws. The continuance in force in peace times of taxes devised under pressure of imperative necessity to produce a revenue for war purposes is indefensible and can only result in lasting injury to the people. The republican congress persistently failed, through sheer political cowardice, to make a single move toward a readjustment of tax laws which it denounced before the last election and was afraid to revise before the next election. We advocate tax reform and a searching revision of the war revenue acts to fit peace conditions so that the wealth of the nations may not be withdrawn

TO FIGHT FOR IRELAND

Delegates to Carry Case to Convention Floor — H. O'Sullivan Active

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Promise of the greatest debate over the question of Ireland's independence in the history of American politics hung over the delegates to the democratic national convention last night when they reassembled for a session likely to last into the small hours of the morning.

The movement on the part of friends of Ireland among the delegates to have their way in the convention, in spite of all opposition, gained such impressive strength within a few hours yesterday that at the hour for reconvening, the battle over the League of Nations and prohibition, which are also scheduled, had almost been forgotten and interest in the Irish question was at white heat.

The resolutions committee early yesterday afternoon voted, 32 to 15, against the plank submitted on Tuesday by Frank P. Walsh and Senator James D. Phelan of California, which pledged the nominee of this convention, if elected, to recognize the present Irish republic.

Within a few minutes news of this vote reached a caucus of delegates friendly to the Irish cause in an adjoining hall. By a unanimous vote the caucus promptly reiterated its faith in the recognition plank and recommended that any minority report be based on the Walsh-Phelan plank.

Just before this vote was taken, Senator David L. Walsh of Massachusetts, left the resolutions committee for a brief visit to the caucus and sent the gathering into wild flights of enthusiasm by the blunt declaration that he favored the recognition plank and would fight for it to the last ditch.

His attitude was considered particularly significant, as he has heretofore been lined up with the conservatives, against the Frank P. Walsh group.

The Irish demand has assumed such proportions that the forces of the Wilson administration early yesterday abandoned all attempts to pacify the wing of the democracy with any declaration of sympathy written into a League of Nations plank.

When the recognition plank had been voted down, a separate plank milder in nature, but supposed to follow the lines of former resolutions of sympathy, was incorporated in the platform draft. Although this organized attempt to solidify delegates of Irish sympathies, originated with the men from New England and New York, it spread with such rapidity that when the caucus was called to order at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon no less than 30 states and the District of Columbia answered to the roll call and designated men to act on a steering committee.

For Recognition or Nothing
In the three-hour discussion which followed delegates from Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey took a leading part, but men from the far west and even the south figured in the debate. Earlier in the day, Frank P. Walsh had sent a request for a five-minute hearing before the resolutions committee, to restate his case briefly. Notice that this request had been denied came to the caucus just as it assembled. Delegates called for a statement for Walsh and he took the floor to explain the morning's happenings. He declared that the determination of the resolutions committee to write a sympathy plank constituted political hypocrisy of a high order.

"Both houses of congress," he said, "have already passed such resolutions, why should the democratic party pledge itself to do something that has already been done? We ask recognition or nothing."

A discussion of procedure was then in order. With John J. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Pawtucket, R. I., in the chair, Michael H. Sullivan of Salem, Mass., was recognized first.

Issues on Minority's Rights

"It is apparent," he said, "that a great battle will take place in this convention tonight. We are Americans recognizing the right of the majority to rule, but also the right of a minority to be heard. If when our champions in the resolutions committee introduce their minority report there is any attempt to choke off debate or to rush the decision through without a proper hearing, I want a man from every delegation to rise in his might and protest. Let them know that we insist on fair play, and we'll get it."

Shortly after this, Senator Walsh, whose victory in the resolutions committee in the early morning hours had made him a marked man, entered the hall, to receive a tremendous ovation. He said he was bound in secrecy and could not report on the developments in the adjoining chamber, but he said enough to assure his audience that he would fight for the recognition plank from the floor of the convention.

"I want the United States to recognize the independence of Ireland," he said bluntly.

"The whole Irish problem can be summed up in a few words: Is self-determination a worthy principle? Our government owes its very being to an affirmative answer. If that is so, why not, in God's name, apply it to all the world, and not merely a part of it? The only argument against recognition is expediency, and why should that take precedence over the God-given right that men should govern themselves?"

Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell introduced a resolution that the caucus ask W. Burke Cochrane of New York and Charles P. N. O'Brien, of New Jersey, to assume the leadership in the battle on the floor. Michael H. Sullivan, of Salem, moved to amend by including the name of David L. Walsh and Senator Thomas Brown, of New Jersey, added another amendment to include Judge Sullivan. The motion prevailed.

Thomas J. Spellacy of Hartford, moved that a committee of 28 be appointed, divided into 14 sub-committees, to wait on the 14 men whose names have been presented to the convention as presidential candidates. He declared that the delegates had a right in the balloting, to begin late today, to know how these men stood on the question of Irish independence. Two or three delegates advised against the Spellacy motion, but there were only one or two nays when the question was taken.

There was a heated debate over the question of procedure and voices rose high at various times when men tried to take the floor from others. At one point Judge Sullivan of Salem rose and quietly remarked: "I hope all of us in here are of Irish blood. An outsider who might be listening would think from the hubbub that those men are right who say the Irish always fight among themselves. Let's have decorum, ladies and gentlemen."

Sullivan got a cheer and the excitement died down.

At 4 o'clock the caucus took a recess until 7 o'clock, at which time the committees were to report on their interviews with presidential candidates and managers.

New England members of the steering committee follow: Maine, Daniel J. McGillicuddy; Vermont, J. B. Flanagan; Massachusetts, Daniel H. Coakley; Joseph C. Pelletier, Edward W. Quinn, Thomas A. Niland; Rhode Island, John J. Fitzgerald; Connecticut, Augustin Loneragan.

BOYNTON TO PROBE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

BOSTON, July 2.—Thomas J. Boynton, who recently resigned as United States district attorney here, has been appointed special assistant to the attorney general and will begin immediately a rigid investigation into the textile industry of Massachusetts to determine whether or not there is profiteering here.

Mr. Boynton said last night that he will have no assistants in his work, but will be aided in investigations by the local bureau of the department of justice. The work will be carried on systematically, and the books of every textile corporation in the commonwealth will be examined carefully and compared with government estimates. Mr. Boynton will make his reports directly to Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

Superintendent of Police Redmond Welch, are as follows:

February	84	256
March	39	324
April	31	319
May	122	264

According to both Supt. Welch and Probation Officer Edward F. Slattery a large part of the drunkenness comes from the drinking of "jakey" and moonshine the increased sales of which have been shown in the larger number of arrests during the last three months.

According to Probation Officer Slattery the men who find their way into court are not as a rule of the class that could afford to pay from $12 to $20 for sealed quart bottles of whiskey. In only one or two cases have the men been found with sufficient funds when arrested to pay a fine of $5.

No Regular Dealers

According to Mr. Slattery the liquor that is being consumed is not being sold by men who were formerly connected with the liquor business as legalized sellers. The booze is mainly being sold in alleys and back rooms and by men who hang around the railroad station with bottles in their pockets and suit cases.

The "jakey" and moonshine that are being sold, Mr. Slattery says, are of the most villainous kind. He claims that they are but little better than rank poisons. It takes a man a long time to recover from the effects of a present day "jakey" or moonshine jag and in a number of cases it has been necessary to send men to jail to give them an opportunity to get the poison out of their systems. In some cases, Mr. Slattery asserts, the effects of drinking the different concoctions have been permanent and the persons are not likely to ever fully recover.

Arrests for offenses against public morals have shown an increase and Lowell is less of a spotless town now than it was a year ago. Wife desertion and non-support cases have also largely increased, in the opinion of the probation officer.

Gambling Has Increased

Mr. Slattery also states that the amount of gambling in the city is much greater than it was in the days of the open saloons. Young men, especially, having been shut off from the life of the saloons, have turned to games of chance as a means of recreation and passing the time. Crap shooting is much more prevalent, Mr. Slattery says, than in former years, and many complaints are received from parents that their boys spend their time in tossing the bones when they should be at work or in school.

Lowell has never been seriously troubled with the presence of drug addicts. According to both Superintendent Welch and the probation officer there are few, if any, men or women now in the city who habitually use the hypodermic "gun," "Snowbirds," or cocaine sniffers, are practically unknown. There is no evidence either that there has been any increase in the use of other drugs, such as paraldehyde, ether and the coal tar hypnotics that has followed the advent of prohibition in other places. Either drinking, common among certain elements in a cosmopolitan population, is very rare.

That the sale of "jakey" and moonshine is on the increase is admitted by both the police superintendent and probation officer.

COMPANY G REUNION IN TYNGSBORO

Twenty-six members of Company G, 11th Regiment of Infantry, M.S.G., were present at a reunion of the organization at the Martin Luther clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

Immediately on arrival at destination two baseball nines were organized and a game started. It would have been a great game if it hadn't been that a large part of the time was spent in commenting on the way in which Private George Lawrence, who is not exactly anemic, circled the bases, and in jeering at and kicking over the heels of Umpire Gilbert Hunt.

The only catastrophe was a barked shinn suffered when William N. Goodell and Capt. Royal F. White were in collision at shortstop. First aid treatment was required for Mr. Goodell. "No one knows which side won the game."

At the end of the diamond contest an hour was spent pitching quilts loading and card playing and then a clambake was served. The party started on the return trip to Lowell about 8.30.

Bridge Contract Terms

three contractors who were desirous of doing the work. His figure was $99,759 and inasmuch as there will have to be some extra work not included in the original specifications in order to continue street car service over the bridge while it is being reconstructed, it was agreed at this morning's conference to allow Mr. Meloy not more than $600 above his original bid.

Mr. Meloy will start work at once and his men will do the entire job except whatever minor work can be done more cheaply by employees of the street department.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL NOT INTERFERE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will not interfere in any way with the removal of Patrolman Michael Rynne from the municipal bath house to other duty, as ordered last evening by Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department, he said today.

Mr. Rynne's transfer comes as a result of a controversy over his wearing a regulation police uniform. For the past two or three years, the swimming pool has been more or less under the general direction of the mayor, and he has assigned Patrolman Rynne to the place in the double capacity of police officer and life guard.

This year, with the opening of the new bath house, the swimming pool has come under the jurisdiction of the park department, and several life guards have been appointed for that work only. Mr. Rynne has remained at the pool in the capacity of police officer, but has spent much of his time in instructing people wishing to learn to swim and in rescuing people who have met with accidents. However, the authorities wanted a uniformed patrolman on the job to prevent disorder. As a result of the controversy Patrolman Rynne was succeeded today by Patrolman Lynch. The mayor says that Mr. Rynne has made an ideal man for the bath house, but believes that inasmuch as the park department has full control of the place, it is not his duty to interfere.

EXAMS FOR CHAUFFEURS

For the first time in the history of the city, the inspectors of the state highway commission who conduct an examination for would-be chauffeurs every Friday at city hall, today had to hold two sessions to accommodate all the young men who desired licenses. This forenoon 60 applicants were put through the paces under the direction of Inspectors Hubbell, Hardy and Leary and at 2 o'clock another large class began its examination.

COMMERCE CHAMBER COMMITTEES MEET

The roads committee of the chamber of commerce met at the chamber's rooms this afternoon to consider the problem of relieving traffic conditions in Merrimack square. Plans for re-routing trolley cars, submitted by Supt. Thomas Lee of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway, were examined and discussed.

A meeting was held at noon today of the community advertising committee of the chamber of commerce at the Colonial at which plans for inducing the wider use of "Made in Lowell" labels were considered.

CHICAGO MUNICIPAL
STRIKE SPREADS

CHICAGO, July 2.—Dissatisfied with the action of the city council in denying practically all requests for salary increases, groups of municipal employees in many departments yesterday joined the 2000 city workers already on strike. The thousand clerks and stenographers at the city hall who struck earlier in the spring have called a meeting for tonight to consider whether they shall again walk out.

Police and firemen have decided on no action. They asked increases of $300 yearly and received from the council 75 cents a month, $8 per annum, making their new rate $2000.

The principal strikes today were in the building inspection and engineering departments, where elevator inspectors and electric engineers walked out.

To grant all the pay increases demanded, the council announced last night, would cost $20,000,000, while the city is already practically bankrupt and will have to discharge many employees to maintain the present schedules in some departments.

PLAYGROUND SEASON
OPENS WEDNESDAY

The 1920 playground season to be conducted under the auspices of the park commission will open next Wednesday and will continue until Sept. 1, it was announced at a conference of park department officials and playground supervisors in the aldermanic chamber at city hall late yesterday afternoon.

Several innovations are planned for this year's work on the playgrounds. For the first three weeks a representative of the national community service will act in an expert advisory capacity and during the summer from time to time, Dr. Charles E. Simpson, state health officer in this district, will give talks to the supervisors on the health of children.

The playground sessions will be held daily, except Saturday, from 9 to 11:15 a. m. and from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Several of the supervisors volunteered to assist in the first aid tent to be established on the South common on July 6. The supervisors will have their next meeting at city hall on July 9 at 4:30 p. m.

From 500 to 100 lobsters are caught daily by one boat along the New Brunswick coast.

Benson Warns Foreign Interests Not to Interfere With Our Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, July 2. (By the Associated Press)—Warning foreign interests not to attempt interference with the development of the American merchant marine, Chairman Benson of the shipping board declared today that the board was determined to build up an American merchant marine as contemplated by the Jones shipping act despite threats and propaganda by such interests to defeat the law.

"The United States," said Admiral Benson, "is in earnest in its efforts to place within the ownership of United States citizens, the control of at least a part of its traffic in imports and exports. It is should by any possible means be held that the departments of the government lack such authority as will insure their being able to protect American interests in such control, additional authority will be asked by the administration and will undoubtedly be granted by congress.

"Foreign carriers and those in the United States interested more in foreign than American institutions, will do well to let sleeping dogs lie."

Admiral Benson's warning was sounded in a talk to representatives of Pacific coast chambers of commerce and trade bodies and American railroads, who have been disturbed by threats of foreign carriers to divert business from American ports on the Pacific coast because of the section of the merchant marine act permitting a preferential rate over carriers within the United States on merchandise moving in export and import in American vessels.

Such a threat, the chairman said, "is futile and idle."

"If such a threat is sincere and the attempt is made to so divert the business," Admiral Benson continued, "the shipping board will allocate American ships to move the business. The shipping board and the interstate commerce commission will follow this action by other steps which would further protect the interests of the United States against such foreign efforts to defeat the purposes of the merchant marine act.

"Nothing could more surely bring out the enforcement of this section of the law than adoption by foreign carriers of their threat to divert business from American ports.

"As this section is to be used only where there is an ample American tonnage to handle the export and import commerce to any particular port in a foreign country or a possession of the United States, we cannot conceive how anyone who has studied this law can assume that the shipping board would make a general application of this section. There will certainly be no enforcement of the provision without concurrent action which will fully protect all American interests.

"The transportation act has given to the interstate commerce commission authority in emergency to direct traffic or establish embargoes against movement of freights. It also has authority to establish minimum rates on any commodity moving subject to the interstate commerce act within the United States.

"The commission is aware of the necessity for preventing the distorting of traffic upon the railroads of the United States, such as would be accomplished by an effort by foreign carriers to divert the export and import traffic now moving between Pacific coast ports of the United States and the Orient, either to British Columbia or to ports of the Atlantic."

Admiral Benson said that in the transpacific trade at this time, there seemed to have been specific and successful effort to prevent American vessels from securing return cargoes at certain points, while ships of other nations have come with full loads. Application of the section of the merchant marine act prescribing preferential rates might be invoked, he said, to require equal consideration in cargoes from such discriminating ports for United States vessels, owned either by private citizens or by the shipping board.

men were selected and measured, these measurements ranging from a group which had the smallest proportions to a group which had the largest. There were 22 "sub-groups" taken in each state group. The averages quoted above were taken from the "sub-groups" in which the largest number of men fell.

The need for well fitting uniforms is a crying need.

Have you ever been in the squad room of a barracks when a recruit was being measured for his army "logs?" Here is a sample of the conversation: "He needs a 36 blouse," yells the corporal, measuring his victim. "Here's a 48—shoot 'em," yells the sergeant, throwing the blouse at the unfortunate "rookie."

Explanation—nothing else in stock, starchy looking uniform.—Washington Star.

U. S. ARMY FOUND "PERFECT MAN"

The army has found the perfect man. It all came about because of the poor fitting uniforms with which Uncle Sam had to equip his army. The uniforms have been made to order on antiquated patterns, held to by the war department from time immemorial. Try as they could, army officers couldn't fit the recruits. Every now and then, by accident, a uniform would "fit like the paper on the wall," was in the majority of cases the soldier found himself wrapped in swaddling clothes instead of wearing snug-fitting military garb.

Just before the war the army took measurements of 100,000 men. From the average, the patterns were made by which uniforms were ordered. But the result was the same. The clothes wouldn't fit.

From now on they probably will. Dr. C. B. Davenport of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and a major in the surgeon general's department of the army, has solved the problem.

Average from 100,000 Measurements

Measurements of 100,000 men of military age, the number being made up from every state and the District of Columbia, were taken during the war. The results have just been obtained.

The measurements show that while a man in Washington has an average chest measurement of from 36 to 38 centimeters, or 34 to 34.6 inches, his brother from the golden west possesses a chest which measures from 31 to 37 centimeters, or 35 to 35.15 inches in circumference.

Washington, Alabama, Montana, Illinois, Maine and Oklahoma men have chests which measure approximately the same, as an average. Arizona is a land of giants, for men there have larger chests than those of any other state, measuring as an average 41 to 47 centimeters. California, Colorado and Texas men show the same measurements. To reduce centimeters to inches, multiply by .3937.

The statistical branch of the general staff has taken the figures under consideration, and within a short time will be able to announce the complete measurements for the "perfect man" of military age in the United States—this perfect man being the one whose measurements coincide with the average.

This is the first time any such tabulation has been undertaken in the United States, and the medical profession probably will be interested in the results, as many new facts are expected to be developed when the final figures are obtained.

New Patterns Will Soon Be Ready

The quartermaster general's department already has begun practical application of the results. A number of manikins are under construction or will be within a few weeks, and from them an entirely new set of patterns for the army uniform will be made. Uncle Sam will, within a year have his soldiers well equipped with perfectly fitting uniforms according to the prediction of officers of the general staff.

Colored men, taken as a whole, possess chests which are slightly smaller than those of white men, according to the statistics, and from this the surgeon general's department has arrived at what is believed to be an explanation of the prevalence of tuberculosis among members of the colored race, compared with the prevalence of the disease among the whites.

The measurements were taken in the following manner: From each state and the District of Columbia, groups

ARBITRATION HEARING

Head of Conference Board Says Carmen's Wages Take Precedence

BOSTON, July 2.—William J. Murphy of Woburn, chairman of the joint conference board of the Eastern Massachusetts Carmen's union, testified yesterday in the wage arbitration proceedings at the state house. He contended that the present wage demands of the employees of the street railway company take precedence of the rights of the travelling public or the financial prosperity of the road.

"Do you take the position that if the company can't pay what the men ask for, unless the public will pay more money, that lines should be closed up?" asked Henry F. Hurlburt, representing the company.

"If there is no other way out of it—yes," was the reply. "But the men have never been consulted concerning the abandonment of lines."

"Shouldn't the capital invested in the road receive a living wage as well as the men?" asked Mr. Hurlburt.

"I suppose so," answered Murphy. "But I am interested first of all in the men and in getting a living wage for them."

Counsel Hurlburt sought to show that Murphy and other officials of the union had urged the men to strike last year after the award of the war labor board, granting an increase of 12 per cent, was made public, and produced a circular letter issued by the joint conference board sub-committee of the union in support of his contention. Murphy admitted having participated in the action, but denied that a strike vote had been taken.

Vahey Says Strike Was Wrong

Counsel Vahey for the men interposed:

"The men had no right to strike, and the joint conference board should not have done what it did, but this was the first strike in the history of the road. The strikes last year were unauthorized by anybody. There are cases where men lose their heads and do things which they ought not to do."

"If the lines are closed up, how will the men benefit?" asked Counsel Hurlburt.

"Well, they can get other jobs," replied Murphy.

"Well, suppose they lose out on their chance, what then?"

"There are poorhouses left for them, I suppose. They might as well be living in poorhouses as work for 51 cents an hour these days."

Pressed by Mr. Hurlburt for statistics covering the cost of living, Murphy said he was not prepared to go into details.

"Do you mean you want me to tell you what it costs for steak?" he asked.

Ogden and Hurlburt Bar Steak

"I don't think the board is interested in the price of steak," interposed Chairman Ogden. "For myself, I can't have steak these days."

"I've quit buying steak, too, at its present prices," said Mr. Hurlburt.

The union official then agreed to present tomorrow data covering the cost of living at various places in the territory over which the company's lines run.

The witness contended that in Woburn members of the union had been instrumental in preventing the adoption of a jitney ordinance by the city council.

"Did you try to help the company secure legislation similar to the legislation enacted to benefit the Boston Elevated?" asked Mr. Hurlburt.

"I was told that the legislature would not pass a bill for the Eastern Massachusetts the same as was passed for the Boston Elevated. The original bill provided for the same conditions as the Elevated bill, I understood," was the reply.

"Why did you not advocate the passage of a bill such as the original bill, then?"

"Because the legislature would not pass such a bill unless they eliminated the provisions for financial aid. If you understand certain things connected with that legislature and with the situation you will understand why they passed the Elevated bill."

"I can infer then, I think," said Mr. Hurlburt.

"Well, where is the money to come from to pay the wages asked for by the men?" continued the company's counsel.

"Sandbag the government," facetiously suggested Murphy.

The hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

AS PROTEST FAILS

SHANGHAI, July 2.—A strike of

thousands of students throughout China to compel the Peking government to disclaim all intention of opening direct negotiations with Japan concerning a settlement of the Shanghai problem has failed. Leaders of the national student organization, in Shanghai attributed its failure to lack of popular sympathy and untimeliness.

Before going on strike student leaders called upon the government to issue a public disclaimer and demanded that the Peking authorities ignore the ultimatum. About 30,000 Chinese quit their classes in Shanghai and thousands of others went on strike in others of the 14 provinces. They remained out for a month or more and then called off the strike.

RED PILLS

The Invigorating and Reparative Tonic for Women

After the birth of my first child, I became excessively nervous, and frequently had such bad attacks that I would faint and would have to call the doctor. I was following a treatment for one year, but with no avail, as I was getting no better. One day a close friend urged me to try RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and I took them. After taking a few boxes with no apparent results, I was beginning to get discouraged, but my husband advised me to continue taking them very regularly, and after four months I was happy to be able to notice quite an improvement in my health. About a year after I was feeling fine in every way.—Mrs. Roch Guerin, 59 White Street, Cohoes, N.Y.

RED PILLS are a priceless treasure for women. They are perfectly harmless and are so easily digested that even the most delicate women can take them. They are especially adapted to anemic women. The different ailments and discomforts which the weak and anemic woman very often has to suffer, such as headaches, upset stomach, neuralgia, dizziness, flashes, swellings, palpitations, nervousness, melancholia, discouragement, metritis, displacements, are all caused by the weakness and poverty of the blood, and therefore gradually disappear as a woman gets stronger under the influence of the RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes, of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes, $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price.—Franco American Chemical Company Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston.

When I was eighteen years of age I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and they proved so helpful to me that I am pleased to have the opportunity of advising other young girls to take them whenever necessary. Through carelessness I had become weak and pale as wax, and for a whole year I was unable to do any work at all. The best part of my time was spent in bed, and the different kinds of medicine which I was taking were doing me absolutely no good. Someone told me of RED PILLS, which soon restored my health. Since that time I have great confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. John F. Sousa, 499 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

Linen and Organdie Order of the Day When Kiddies Dress Up for Fourth

SMOCKING AND APPLIQUE WORK ARE VERY POPULAR IN "YOUNGER SET" STYLES.

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Authority.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Of course, Betty Jane wants a new dress for the Fourth of July! If she can't play with freerackers, she wants to be "all dressed up" to listen to the band and watch the parade.

Children's fashions are every whit as alluring this season as those for their elders, and about as overdone. Small Ivy Ward, of the Famous Players-Lasky pictures, has graciously consented to pose in some of her new summer frocks, and here are three of them. She hasn't quite decided which one to wear on the Fourth, but it will probably be the one

In the center, if someone will just invite her to the beach.

This frock is a fetching beach dress, a variation of a Dutch frock, comprising an apron worn over bloomers. It is made of white linen with a border of plain blue linen above which are cunning pink tulips with green stems, cut from linen and appliqued to the white linen. The bonnet matches.

mob cap made of the organdie with a blue ribbon around it, ending in a pecky bow in front, makes the costume complete.

SHOELESS MAN HAD 115,080 FRANCES

PARIS, July 2.—Ragged, hairless and practically shoeless, an elderly man was sitting in a park on the south side of the Seine a few nights since, muttering to himself, 50, 60, 70, the while stacking thin little slips of paper one upon the other. He attracted the at-ention of two gendarmes for he had apparently been drinking too much wine. He was taken to the station.

The desk sergeant was bewildered when the ragged man explained that the little slips of paper he was counting were good bills of the Bank of France and that the figures he was mumbling represented their amount. He had 115,080 francs.

"I won this money at the races," explained the delirious of the park.

It developed that the man was one Billigot, a former colonial soldier, at times street newspaper vendor, known to the citizens of Grenelle ward in Paris as "Father of Luck" or "Father Cherry" (the little front being known in the parlance of the Paris gamblers circles as the emblem of luck). He had run up 150 francs, the amount of his pension paid to him as an ex-soldier, into 115,080 francs. The police released him, after giving him a little advice about counting his wealth in public parks while slightly under the influence of red wine.

Billigot invested 80,000 francs in a life annuity the next morning, bought a suit of clothes, shoes, etc., and before departing for St. Germain racetrack called on the friendly police sergeant and gave him a tip on the races for that afternoon. The horse won.

The newspaper L'Eclair has offered him 100 francs per day for his racing selections until the end of the season.

"TIGER" MONUMENT Clemenceau Shown Standing at Edge of Trench

PARIS, July 2.—Clemenceau is shown at the front, standing at the edge of a trench, with his friends the French poilus below and about him. In the monument to be erected in his native country, the Vendée, early next year.

François Seard, the sculptor, is this time the group work out of hard Burgundian stone. Unfinished, the work is already said to visualize with great character the scene so often pictured of the old "Tiger" mentally and almost physically fighting for France.

The premier's figure stands eight feet high. He is, as always in the war days, wearing the long, loose overcoat and the soft, slothily crumpled hat, leaning on a cane. His face is toward the enemy. His eyes watching the horizon, following indications given him by a seated officer with maps, beside him. On his right are grouped soldiers and in the trench below are more of the men in the ranks, looking with mingled astonishment and admiration at their minister of war.

FIND UNDERCARRIAGE OF HAWKER'S PLANE

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 1.—The under carriage which Harry Hawker dropped from his airplane when he took flight from here a year ago on his pioneer attempt to cross the Atlantic without stop has been recovered, and presented to the public museum for keeping with other exhibits associated with the colony's history. The gift was made by W. B. Grieve, J.L.C., who purchased the carriage after fishermen had picked it up off Cape St. Mary's, 200 miles south southwest from the point where it was dropped into the sea.

When Hawker set out on his trans-oceanic attempt on May 18, 1919, he flew over the airfield of Frederic P. Raynham, almost on the edge of the coast. Within sight of his rival who was standing by his plane unable to take-off because of an adverse wind, Hawker cut loose his under carriage as a gage to contest for the honors of the air, and to lighten his load; then winged away seaward with Ireland as his object. Raynham, accepting the challenge, sought to start notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, but he was unable to leave the ground and his machine was wrecked, he was injured, and his navigator, Major C. W. F. Morgan, almost killed. Hawker, it will be recalled, flew 1100 miles before engine trouble brought him down. The under carriage was actively sought by Hawker's agents and by others as a souvenir, but search of the coast and of nearby waters, long continued, failed to disclose the wheels and their mount. Fishermen recently picked the carriage up off the coast, southwest of Cape Race, and brought it into Presque, where they disposed of it for a nominal sum.

TITLE FOR FARMERS

"Professor of Stacking" Conferred on Wheat Experts

TOPEKA, July 2.—The title of "professor of stacking" has been conferred on old time farmers who have mastered the art of stacking wheat so that it will withstand the effects of wind and rain. Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture, who confers this degree at the same time, urges that these veteran farmers be pressed into service to teach the younger generation the so-called "lost art" of stacking grain.

Pointing out the need of finished stacks because much of the wheat crop must be held, either in granaries or stacks on the farm, Mr. Mohler said: "The older generation numbered many men who could build stacks that would stand against the wind and thoroughly protect the grain against the rain and such stacks had the big advantage of 'sealing' the wheat and giving it a better color and quality."

CONG. ESCH FACES A HARD FIGHT

LA CROSSE, Wis., July 2.—Representative John J. Esch, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, one of the recognized republican leaders and dean of the Wisconsin delegation in the house with a record of 26 years of continuous service, faces a hard fight in the September primaries. His opponent for the republican nomination in the seventh district of Wisconsin will be J. D. Beck of Viroqua, former member of the industrial commission of Wisconsin and lieutenant of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Mr. Beck is backed by the new farmer-labor alliance in the district, having the support, it is claimed, of factions in the Society of Equity and State Federation of Labor.

Friends of Congressman Esch rely upon his large personal following in the district and the prestige which his position in the house commands to win the nomination at the September primaries. In 10 elections, Mr. Esch has had his democratic opponent by majorities ranging as high as 15,000 and never less than 8000.

SAYS SPAIN RULED SAME AS RUSSIA

MADRID, July 2.—Spain has been ruled since March 24, 1919, by its successive governments in the same way as Russia was ruled under the old despotic emperors, assert the liberal newspapers.

"On that date the constitutional guarantees were suspended in all the provinces," says La Libertad, "and till this date have never been restored. Even when the general elections were in progress, public rights under any one of the articles of the constitution, and then only the second paragraph of article 14, were permitted to be exercised—that is to say, the right of holding quiet public meetings."

"This permission was useless by itself without being accompanied by the others concerning the same prerogative of the fundamental law, since what could be the object of holding meetings while the prohibition was still enforced against the free expression of opinion and while the press continued muzzled?"

The censorship continually exercised not only on Spanish papers but on telegrams to the foreign press, also is sharply criticized.

ELKS' CONVENTION AT CHICAGO JULY 5

CHICAGO, July 2.—The grand lodge convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which will be held here July 5 to 10, is expected by Elks to bring to Chicago many more visitors than were attracted by the republican national convention. The local information bureau of the Chicago Association of Commerce says there will be no difficulty in housing all the Elks.

Wild west sports participated in by cowboy champions are one of the features which have been arranged for the entertainment of the Elks. The big parade of the week will take place July 7. The convention hall is the auditorium.

from productive interests and diverted to non-productive interest. We demand prompt action by the next congress for a complete survey of existing taxes and their modification and simplification with a view to secure greater equity and justice in tax burdens and improvement in administration.

PUBLIC ECONOMY

Claiming to have effected great economies in government expenditures, the republican party cannot show the reduction of one dollar in taxation as a corollary of this false pretense. In contrast, the last democratic congress enacted legislation reducing from eight billions, designed to be raised, to six billions for the first year after the armistice and four billions thereafter and their total is left undiminished by our political adversaries. Two years after armistice day a republican congress provides for expending the stupendous sum of $5,104,390,327,300. Affecting great paper economies by reducing departmental estimates of sums which would not have been spent in any event and by reducing formal appropriations, the republican statement of expenditures omits the pregnant fact that congress authorized the use of one and a half billion dollars in the hands of various departments and bureaus, which otherwise would have been converted into the treasury and which should be added to the republican total of expenditures.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

The high cost of living and depreciation of bond values in this country are primarily due to war itself, to the necessary governmental expenditures for the destructive purposes of war, to private extravagance, the world shortage of capital, to the inflation of foreign currency and credit, and in a large degree to conscious profiteering.

The republican party is responsible for the failure to restore peace and peace conditions in Europe, which is a principle cause of post-armistice inflation the world over.

It has denied the demand of the president for necessary legislation to deal with secondary and local causes. The sound policies pursued by the treasury and the federal reserve system have lightened in this country, though they could not prevent the inflation which was world wide. Elected upon specific promises to curtail public expenditures and to bring the country back to a status of effective economy, the republican plurality in congress wasted time and energy for more than a year in vain and extravagant investigations, costing the taxpayers great sums of money, while revealing nothing beyond the incapacity of republican politicians to cope with the problems. Demanding that the president, from his place at the peace table, call the congress into extraordinary session for imperative purposes of readjustment, the congress when convened spent 13 months in partisan pursuits, failing to repeal a single war statute which harassed business or to enact a single constructive measure to help business. It busied itself making a pre-election record of pretended thrift, having not one particle of substantial existence in fact. It raged against profiteers and the high cost of living without enacting a single statute to make the former afraid or doing a single act to bring the latter within limitations.

The simple truth is that the high cost of living can only be remedied by increased production, strict governmental economy and a relentless pursuit of those who take advantage of post-war conditions and are demanding and receiving outrageous profits.

We pledge the democratic party to a policy of strict economy in government expenditures and to the enactment and enforcement of such legislation as may be required to bring before the bar of criminal justice.

THE TARIFF

We reaffirm the traditional policy of the democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only and to confirm the policy of basing tariff revision upon the intelligent research of a non-partisan commission, rather than upon the demands of selfish interests, temporarily held in abeyance.

BUDGET

of an effective budget system that will function in accord with principles of the constitution. The reform should reach both the executive and legislative aspects of the question. The supervision and preparation of the budget should be vested in the secretary of the treasury as the representative of the people. The budget, as such, should not be increased by the congress except by a two-thirds vote, each house being free to exercise its constitutional privilege of making appropriations through independent bills. The appropriation bills should be considered by single committees of the house and senate. The audit system should be consolidated and its powers expanded so as to pass upon the wisdom of the budget as well as the authority for expenditures.

A budget bill was passed in the closing days of the second session of the 66th congress, when, invalidated by plain, constitutional defects, and defaced by considerations of patronage, the president was obliged to veto. The house amended the bill to meet the objection. We condemn the republican senate for adjourning without passing the amendment measure, when by devoting an hour or two more to this subject of public business, a budget system could have been provided.

SENATE RULES

We favor such alteration of the rules of procedure of the senate of the United States as will permit the prompt transaction of the nation's legislative business.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

To the great agricultural interests of the country, the democratic party does not find it necessary to make promises. It already is rich in its record of things actually accomplished. For nearly half a century of republican rule not a sentence was written into the federal statutes effecting one dollar to bank credits to the farming interests of America.

In the first term of this democratic administration the bank act was so altered to authorize loans of five years' maturity on improved farm lands. Later, was established a system of farm loan banks from which the borrowing already exceed $400,000,000, under which the interest rate to farmers has been so materially reduced as to drive out of business the farm loan sharks who formerly exerted extortion upon the great agricultural interests of the country.

Thus, it was a democratic congress in the administration of a democratic president which enabled the farmers for the first time to obtain credit upon reasonable terms and insured their opportunity for the future in development of the nation's agricultural resources. Tied-up in supreme court proceedings, in a suit by hostile interests, the federal farm loan system, originally opposed by the republican candidate for the presidency, appeared in vain to a republican congress for adequate financial assistance to tide over the interim between the beginning and ending of the current year, awaiting a final decision of the highest court on the validity of the contested act. We pledge prompt and consistent support of sound and effective measures to sustain, amplify and perfect the rural credits statutes and thus to check and reduce the growth and course of farm tenancy.

Not only did the democratic party put into effect a great farm loan system of land mortgage banks but it passed the Smith-Lever agricultural act, carrying to every farmer in every section of the country through the medium of trained experts and by demonstration farms, the practical knowledge acquired by the federal agricultural department in all things pertaining to agricultural horticulture and animal life. It established the bureau of markets, the bureau of farm management and passed the cotton futures act, the grain growth bill, the co-operative farm administration act, and the federal warehouse act. The democratic party has vastly improved the rural system and has built up the parcel post system to such an extent as to render its practical services indispensable to the farming community. It was this wise encouragement and this effective concern of the democratic party for the farmers of the United States that enabled this great interest to render such essential service in feeding the armies of America and the allied nations of the war and securing starving populations since armistice day.

Collective Bargaining

Meanwhile the republican leaders at Washington have failed to propose any single measure to make rural life more tolerable. They have signalized their 15 months of congressional power by signing schemes which would strip the farms of labor; by availing the principles of the farm loan system and seeking to impair its efficiency; by covertly attempting to destroy the great nitrogen plant at Muscle Shoals upon which the government has expended $10,000,000 to supply American farmers with fertilizers at reasonable cost; by ruthlessly crippling nearly every branch of agricultural endeavor, literally crippling the productive mediums through which the people must be fed.

We favor such legislation as will confirm to primary producers of the nation the right of collective bargaining and the right of co-operative handling and marketing of the products of workshops and the farm and such legislation as will facilitate the exportation of our farm products.

We favor comprehensive studies of farm production costs and the uncersured publication of facts found in such studies.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY

The democratic party is now as ever, the firm friend of honest labor and the promoter of progressive industry. It established the department of labor at Washington and a democratic president called to his council board the first practical working man who ever held a cabinet portfolio. Under this administration have been established employment bureaus to bring the man and the job together; have peacefully determined many bitter disputes between capital and labor; passed the child labor act, the workmen's compensation act (the extension of which we advocate so as to include laborers engaged in loading and unloading ships and in interstate commerce); the eight hour law, the act for vocational training, and a code of other workmen's laws affecting and bettering the condition of the working class.

In the department of labor the democratic party established a woman's bureau which the republican congress destroyed by withholding appropriations.

Labor is not a commodity, it is human. Those who labor have rights and national security and safety depend upon a just recognition of those rights and the conservation of strength of workers and their families in the interest of a sound-hearted and sound-headed men, women and children. Laws relating to hours of labor and conditions under which labor is performed, when passed in recognition of the conditions under which life must be lived to attain the highest development and happiness are just assertions of national interest in the welfare of the people.

At the same time, the nation depends upon the products of labor; a cessation of production means loss and if long continued disaster. The whole people, therefore, have a right to insist that justice shall be done to those who work and in return those who labor and hold the necessities upon which the life of the nation depends must recognize the reciprocal obligation between the worker and the state. They should participate in the formulation of sound laws and regulations governing the condition under which labor is performed, recognize and obey the laws so formulated and seek their amendment when necessary by the processes ordinarily addressed to the laws and regulations affecting the other relations of life.

Labor and Capital Have Rights

Labor, as well as capital, is entitled to adequate compensation. Each has the indefensible right of organization, of collective bargaining and of speaking through representatives of their own selection. Neither class, however, should at any time nor in any circumstances take action that will put in jeopardy the public welfare. Resort to strikes and lockouts, which endanger the lives of the people, is an unsatisfactory device for determining disputes, and the democratic party pledges itself to contrive, if possible and put into effective operation a fair and comprehensive method of composing differences of this nature. In private industrial disputes, we are opposed to compulsory arbitration as a method plausible in theory but a failure in fact. With respect to government service, we hold distinctly that

CONVENTION CLERK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Senator Robinson, permanent chairman of the convention, called at the rooms of the national committee to ask for 25 tickets. A clerk named Schwartz was in charge.

"When are you supporting?" the clerk is declared to have asked. "My orders are not to give that number of tickets to anybody without asking who they are for."

Robinson's answer was to punch the clerk heartily. Later, Attorney General Palmer was called in and the matter was explained to him. Robinson admitted that he had told Schwartz he could not have tickets unless he told where he stood.

Robinson expressed regret at having lost his temper, insisting, however, that in his country a question of that sort was nothing short of an insult. This was the view taken of the matter by others, and Robinson was mollified by the discharge of the clerk and the handing over of the desired tickets.

the rights of the people are paramount to the rights to strike. However, we profess scrupulous regard for the constitution of employment and pledge the democrats to instant inquiry into the pay of government employees and equally speedy regulations designed to bring salaries to a just and proper level.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

We endorse the proposed 1912 amendment of the constitution of the United States granting equal suffrage to women. We congratulate the legislatures of 35 states which have already ratified said amendment and we urge the democratic governors and legislatures of Tennessee, North Carolina, and Florida and such states as have not yet ratified the federal suffrage amendment to unite in an effort to complete the process of ratification and secure the 36th state in time for all the women of the United States to participate in the fall election. We commend the effective advocacy of the measure by President Wilson.

WOMEN IN INDUSTRY

We urge co-operation with the states for the protection of child life through infancy and maternity care; prohibition of child labor; and by adequate appropriations for the children's bureau and the women's bureau in the department of labor. Co-operative federal assistance to the states is immediately required for the removal of illiteracy, for the increase of teachers salaries and instruction in citizenship for both native and foreign born; increased appropriation for vocational training in home economics; re-establishment of a joint federal and state employment service with women's departments under the direction of technically qualified women. We advocate full representation of women on all commissions dealing with women's work or women's interests and a reclassification of the federal civil service free from discrimination on the ground of sex; a continuance of appropriations for education in sex hygiene, federal legislation which shall insure that American women resident in the United States but married to aliens, shall retain their American citizenship and that the same process

DISABLED SOLDIERS

The federal government should treat with the utmost consideration every disabled soldier, sailor and marine of the world war, whether his disability be due to wounds received in line of action or to health impaired in service; and for the dependents of the brave men who died in line of duty, the government's tenderest concern and richest bounty should be their right. The fine patriotism exhibited, the heroic conduct displayed by American soldiers, sailors and marines at home and abroad constitute a sacred heritage of posterity, the worth of which can never be recompensed from the treasury and glory of which must not be diminished by any such expedient.

The democratic administration wisely established a war risk insurance bureau, giving four and one-half millions of enlisted men insurance at unprecedentedly low rates and through the medium of which compensation of men and women injured in the service is really adjusted and hospital facilities for those whose health is impaired are abundantly afforded.

The federal board for vocational education should be made a part of the war risk insurance bureau in order that the task may be treated as a whole and this machinery of protection and assistance must receive every aid of law and appropriation necessary to full and effective operation.

We believe that no higher or more valued privilege can be afforded to an American citizen than to become a free-holder in the soil of the United States and to that end we pledge our party to the enactment of soldier settlements and home aid legislation, which will afford to the men who fought for America the opportunity to become land and home owners under conditions affording genuine government assistance unencumbered by needless difficulties of red tape or advance financial investment.

THE RAILROADS

The railroads were subjected to federal control as a war measure without any other idea than the swift transport of troops, munitions and supplies. When human and national hopes were at stake, profits could not be considered and were not. Federal operation, however, was marked by an efficiency that minimized loss and resulted in many marked reforms.

The equipment taken over was not only grossly inadequate but shamefully outworn. Unification practices overcame these initial handicaps and provided additions, betterments and improvements. Economics enabled operation without the rate raises that private control would have found necessary and labor was treated an exact justice that secured the enthusiastic co-operation that victory demanded. The fundamental purpose of federal control was achieved fully and splendidly and at far less cost to the tax payer than would have been the case under private operation. Investments in railroad properties were not only saved by government operation, but government management returned these properties vastly improved in every physical and executive detail. A great task was greatly discharged.

The President's recommendation of return to private ownership gave the republican majority a full year in which to enact the necessary legislation. The house took six months to formulate its idea and another six months was consumed by the republican senate in equally vague debate. As a consequence, the Esch-Cummings bill went to the president in the closing hours of congress and he was forced to a choice between the chaos of a veto and acquiescence in the measure submitted, however, grave may have been his objections to it. There should be a fair and complete test of the law until careful and ture action by congress may cure its defects and insure a thoroughly efficient transportation system under private ownership without government subsidy at the expense of the tax payers of the country.

PUBLIC MARKET

Farmers Say Lowell's Market is Big Success

Lowell's new public market in Thorndike street which opened several weeks ago is meeting with great success, according to farmers from the surrounding towns who have taken advantage of this opportunity to dispose of their wares to local retail dealers.

On an average, a score or more market gardeners and produce men assemble at the market place every morning bright and early and between the hours of 5 and 6 succeed in disposing of a large share of their stock. The local dealers were a little averse at first to going to Thorndike street rather than having the farmers come to them, but gradually they are beginning to realize that the new system gives them a better opportunity to secure the pick of the farmers' vegetables and not wait, perhaps until late in the forenoon as was the case formerly.

The farmers also point out that inasmuch as a part of their overhead expense has been cut down, they are able to sell their goods a trifle cheaper than was the case when they had to travel all over the city from store to store.

As soon as the summer crops begin to get in marketable shape, it is expected that the number of farmers who will take advantage of the market will be doubled. As yet, only a few early vegetables are available. However, there has been a heavy traffic in strawberries since the market was started.

On the whole, the farmers are satisfied with the location, although it is inconvenient for those who come to from towns on the other side of the city. Nevertheless, the amount of "peddling" it has saved them more than makes up for this slight inconvenience, they say.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Curtis and Edward Shea, two Cambridge youths who were arrested a few weeks ago for breaking, entering and larceny from camps on the Concord river in Billerica, were arraigned in the juvenile court today and were granted continuance for one week. William Hassett, also of Cambridge, received the same disposition of his case in juvenile court.

Frank E. Greene, who appealed a fine of $10 for drunkenness and a sentence of one month to the house of correction about one week ago, withdrew his appeal this morning and was ordered under $200 bonds to tomorrow morning.

Ellis Laycock, charged with lewd and lascivious behavior, was given a four months' sentence to the house of correction.

MAYOR SENDS OFFICIAL NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT TO MEN NAMED ON CHARTER COMMITTEE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson today forwarded the following letter of appreciation to the 15 men who have accepted positions on the recently appointed commission which is to study the revision of the local charter:

Dear Sir:

Under separate cover I have this day sent to you an official notification of your appointment to serve as a member of the Lowell charter commission. It is appreciated by me that in the appointment of the members of the Lowell charter commission, I have been called upon to name one of the most important commissions that it has been my privilege to appoint during my term in office.

With a realization of the keen interest of the citizens of Lowell, in the creation of a formative plan to be later embodied in a charter, I have endeavored to select the most representative body of men in our city to accomplish the work in hand, and it is with assurance that I can say that the work of the commission will inspire the confidence of the people of our city.

The task before you will require work that will be appreciated, and it will be gratifying to us all, and it will be a source of complete satisfaction to yourself and to the members of the Lowell Charter Commission to finish a document that will meet the necessities and promote the advancement of our city's affairs.

I am grateful for your acceptance of the appointment tendered to you. I remain

Sincerely yours,

PERRY D. THOMPSON,

of the law to prohibit the use of fireworks on that day. However, there is no law against the sale of fireworks next Sunday, all of which affords another sample of the inconsistency of things.

Strictly, according to law, the use of fireworks and so on, may be allowed only on Monday next, the day to be celebrated as the Fourth.

In giving out instructions the chief says that no rockets, bombs, Roman candles may be fired unless under the direction of experienced persons and no fireworks or firecrackers may be fired within 500 feet of any hospital. The law also forbids the use of serpents, rockets and bombs in any public street or way. No fireworks or firecrackers can be sold to children under 13 years of age. Children under that age may be allowed to buy only the toy torpedoes or the single paper caps.

The chief wishes to lay special emphasis on the fact that there should be no smoking where fireworks or firecrackers are on display or in use.

Is Your Back Giving Out?

strain upon your kidneys. This may be the cause of your bad back, that nervous, "blue," depressed feeling, and that annoying kidney irregularity. Don't wait for some serious kidney illness. Get back your health and keep it! Live more simply and sensibly for awhile and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These Are Lowell Cases:

GAGE STREET

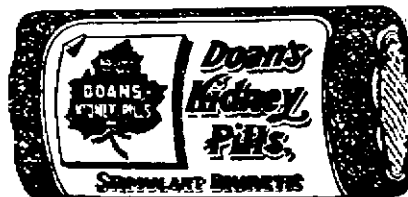

Wm. LeBlanc, machinist, 91 Gage street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been a great help to me and I wouldn't be without them in the home. My work is trying on the back and kidneys. At times I have to work in a cramped position and at one time it nearly broke my back to bend or straighten up. Mornings I was sore and lame. The kidney secretions passed irregularly, too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and soon felt like a different man. I could go about my work without any trouble or backache."

CHELMSFORD STREET

Miss Minnie L. Earle, 104 Chelmsford street, says: "I can surely recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a good remedy for one suffering from weak kidneys and a lame back. Before I took Doan's, I was troubled with a dull, constant ache in my back. Doan's rid me of this the first time I took them and I have never had so much trouble since. When I do have any return of the trouble, Doan's Kidney Pills give me the same good relief." (Statement October 25, 1914.) On February 15, 1915, Miss Earle said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I haven't had a sign of kidney complaint since. I am always glad to endorse Doan's."

MIDDLESEX STREET

D. W. Parker, harness maker, 117 Middlesex street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proven their value to me. I was in an awful bad fix with kidney and bladder trouble. I also had rheumatic pains in my limbs, which made my condition worse. I had to walk with a cane and I could hardly get to the store and back to my home, as I just had to hobble along. The kidney secretions were scanty and painful in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they went right to the seat of the trouble. The kidney secretions became natural and the rheumatic pains left me. I have had no need of a cane for the past two years and cannot praise Doan's highly enough."

No package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple leaf trade mark and the signature—Jas. Doan.

NEW YORK STREET

Mrs. Roy Laurie, 155 New York street, says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble and my back bothered me, especially in the morning. I felt weak and languid and often had dizzy headaches. I knew my kidneys were causing the trouble, for they were weak. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They helped me right away. The dizziness and headaches left me and I was free from that dull, tired feeling. My kidneys also became regular in action. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly for what they have done for me."

Mrs. Laurie gave the above statement on May 5, 1917, and on February 17, 1919, she added: "I have had no return of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me three years ago."

PUFFER STREET

Mrs. H. M. Lorrain, 35 Puffer street, says: "I had severe attacks of backache and couldn't rest at night. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family with benefit, so I got a supply and used them. They soon had my back strong and well. I felt like a different woman and I am always glad to endorse Doan's."

Action at Today's Session

Continued

Floor was eager to fight some of the planks in the platform and also press for the insertion of some that the committee rejected.

The Nebraska who left the committee room last night with a smile on his face after his home dry resolution had been defeated was still determined to urge the adoption of his prohibition plank.

Leaders in the convention said they looked for a long debate despite the fact that speeches are limited to 30 minutes each in discussing planks.

Voting for a presidential nominee will begin immediately after the platform is adopted. There is talk of taking one or two ballots so as to get the line of the delegates and then taking a recess in order to allow the various managers of candidates time to plan for the final drive.

Fight on Convention Floor

Midnight efforts to compose the differences over the wet and dry issue in the platform committee failed after prolonged hours of argument, acrimony and oratory. When all the eleventh hour attempts at harmony were given up it was announced finally that all proposals to include any kind of prohibition plank whatever had been beaten by dry votes and that the question would be brought to the open floor of the convention.

Last night's disappointed crowd which had packed the great civic auditorium from floor to rafters keen on the spectacle of William J. Bryan setting off the fireworks, trailed to the convention hall again today determined not to be cheated out of the show by postponement or delays.

Bryan vs. Colby

Under the program agreed upon Mr. Bryan will present his side of the question in a speech limited to 20 minutes and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state will present the committee manager's side in another 30 minutes. That arrangement, however, does not by any means confine the discussion to one hour. Any number of persons desiring to speak, who may be recognized by Permanent Chairman Robinson, also may be heard for 20 minutes each. In view of Mr. Bryan's well-known fighting spirit and his demonstrated staying qualities, no one is bold enough to predict that the fight will be short. Bryan's repeatedly announced determination for "a platform no wet can run on" and his announcement of last night assured a prolonged struggle, and even though the predictions of the administration forces that they would be able to "choke Bryan off" were to be fulfilled there was no prospect that they would be carried out quickly.

Meeting Behind Closed Doors

Exactly what took place in the meeting of the resolutions committee last night has not been fully disclosed, but it is known that when at the close of the afternoon session all prohibition planks were voted out of the platform, Mr. Bryan in a long and fiery speech told the committee that while he realized that the administration forces had the votes to put over their program, they would do so at the peril of his opposition. Whatever is the full import of what Mr. Bryan threatened was sufficient to cause the committee, after being all ready to make its report, to reconsider its decision and decide to hear Mr. Bryan at a further session while the convention waited.

At this session Mr. Bryan, it is said, continued his attack on the administration forces who pleaded with him not to pursue a course which would make for party discord and endanger party success in November. Mr. Bryan, however, reports from inside the committee room, said, was adamant and the majority finally gave up all hopes of conciliating him and decided to face the proposition of an open fight on the floor.

With those prospects before it, the convention when it resumed today faced the possibility of a program that might carry it far into a night session after probably a brief recess for dinner. Whether the floor battles could be ended in time to take up balloting for a nominee before the convention would have to come to a close from exhaustion, was the question.

"Big Three" Forces Active

The McAdoo boomers took advantage of the interruption in the program to continue strengthening their lineup. Although they had opposed a suspension of the rules and a proposition to proceed to balloting ahead of the report of the platform committee early yesterday, they were ready to accept that program last night, but those who had agreed to the idea earlier would not go on with it because the McAdoo forces had been using the interim to strengthen their position. Before intimations of the convention being packed at last night's session with an eye to the possibilities of a stampede, Cox forces while of their delegates standing firm acknowledged that they had not been fortunate in making accessions and among the Palmer delegates the McAdoo forces were counting on additions to their candidate as a second choice. The McAdoo boomers were so confident of their position as to predict a nomination for him on the fifth ballot if not before.

STOP EXPORTING COAL

According to the statement issued by Mr. Storrow, the fuel commissioner, the coal situation of New England is becoming very serious. The principal reason is that the Interstate Commerce Commission refuses to offer the transportation facilities necessary to furnish New England with enough coal to meet the most urgent necessities.

Already even the railroads are running short and are commandeering coal in transit for their own purposes, thus leaving the consignees to look elsewhere for the supply for which they had arranged.

The fact that some 500,000 tons of coal have been shipped abroad every month indicates how little consideration there is for the needs of New England. It is time the government put an embargo upon the export of coal in order to prevent profiteering by the mine operators and railroads controlling the supply.

The local factories are living from hand to mouth in regard to coal, so that they may find it necessary to shut down or curtail from that cause alone.

The local authorities will have to bring all the pressure possible upon the authorities in control in order to avert a general curtailment in the factories for lack of fuel.

ACTIVE PROPAGANDA

Germany was the great pioneer in propaganda work, and now practically all the other nations are engaged in some branch of the art. But Germany, though fallen from her autocratic power, has not abandoned her favorite method of influencing public sentiment in this country. To the offices of American newspapers is sent propaganda literature from every country in the old world, even including China and Japan. The ostensible purpose is to keep the American people informed upon existing conditions in the nations referred to through carefully prepared articles.

By far the most catchy material of this nature comes from German sources, describing the alleged indignities imposed upon the people of Alsace and Lorraine by French troops. If these articles are to be credited, these colored troops now pouncing upon strikers and other offenders in Alsace and Lorraine, are more aggressive than were the German troops in the occupied parts of France and Belgium, if such a thing were possible. It is very evident that Germany wants to recover the two French provinces taken from her under the provisions of the Versailles treaty.

The German propagandists are endeavoring to discredit every movement of the allied powers calculated to force them to comply with the terms of the treaty. They are confident that propaganda work will change public sentiment of the world in their favor. They are also trying to discredit Poland and the other small nations which have been treated with favor by the allies.

The British propaganda is disguised in various forms and is practically all pervading in this country. It consists in the control of certain church pulpits, newspapers, text book publishing houses, press agencies for giving the news articles a pro-British tinge. The moving picture theatres and the lecture platform are also used ostensibly to promote good feeling between the American people and the English, to convince us that England is a better, a freer and more democratic country than ours, that she is our best friend among the nations and that it is to our interest to maintain friendly relations with her.

The real purpose of this is to hold American friendship for England for the reason that with this nation behind her, England could defy the world. From China come letters denouncing the great trade opportunities which that empire offers to the business interests of the United States. This is the propaganda of every day.

They are still appealing to the people of the world for good will, sympathy, trade and commerce. In some cases the claims put forth are so clearly at variance with the actual facts that they deceive nobody, and in most cases, the chief aim of European propaganda is to pull the public, but the people are now more vigilant and more difficult to deceive than they were in 1913, when Bernstorff bluffed American government officials while posing as their friend. Today there are scores of foreign propagandists at work in this country, every man of them fully as cunning and deceitful in advancing the interests of his country as was Count Bernstorff.

A WAY TO SAVE

The Atlantic division of the Red Cross has started on a campaign to bring about greater economy in personal expenditure and deal a blow at the high cost of living by pressing home to women folk the advisability and possibility of "making over" their worn garments.

This is a move that holds out some promise of affording relief to many persons from the heavy expenditures that are now involved in purchasing clothing of all kinds, and at the same time it is not calculated to cut deeply into business or curtail the activity of manufacture, for the reason that there will certainly remain enough people who will not heed the economy advice of the Red Cross, but will insist in clothing themselves in the latest and best style that their purses will afford.

The Red Cross program has for one of its main features the re-tamping of old garments in such a way as to make them attractive as well as serviceable. In this it will have a pronounced advantage over the "wear overalls" movement, launched with such a blare of trumpets, but that was doomed to failure from the start because it failed to take into account that men are not going to make guys of themselves merely to save a little money.

In Canada the people learned well their lessons in clothing economy during the war, and the persons who did not get the last possible bit of wear out of their clothes were looked at askance by the rest of the community. There the male portion of the population learned among other things that suits of good woolen clothes which had become worn on one side, could be turned the other side out and double service obtained.

It is by following out programs of economy such as suggested by the Red Cross, that abnormal clothing costs can be gradually reduced to more reasonable levels without distressing anybody.

NOT RICH MEN

While the wealth of the country has at times attempted with more or less success to control the government of the United States and change a democracy into a plutocracy, it is worthy of note that none of our presidents, with the possible exception of Washington, has been what, by the standards of his time, could have been considered a rich man.

Perhaps Colonel Roosevelt came the nearest to being in the class that is called "rich" of any of our presidents of later years. He was the son of a blue-blooded family that had long enjoyed wealth and social position. Nevertheless, at his death, despite the fact that his income from royalties on his books had been considerable for a number of years, he left a very modest fortune.

Of our other recent presidents, neither Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, nor Wilson could be considered as being wealthy. Of Mr. Wilson, it has been said, probably truthfully, that if he had not been elected president for his first term, he would have been under the immediate necessity of finding some other job to support himself and his family.

It is also striking that neither of the republican candidates for the presidency is what could properly be termed a rich man and the same is true of the principal aspirants for the democratic nomination.

After all, while as a people we are prone to shower adulation upon the possessors of great wealth, we seem to have other qualifications for the possession of money and consideration in picking our chief executives.

If some Lowell people had been among the 200 strikes of dynamite were being landed in the city, they would have done some tail work, although the substance on fire had but little more possibilities of mischief than a lighted candle. A good many of the worries with which people afflict themselves have no more substantial cause.

If unusual sounds are heard coming from an east-northeasterly direction next Monday it may safely be concluded that they are reverberations for the grand climax of a week-long celebration that Portland, Me., is having over the fact that she has lived to be 100 years old. Lowell's turn is not a great ways off.

The Cuban sugar growers, who have openly combined to hold their product out of the market until they can get 24 cents a pound for it, are acting with almost as little concern for consequences as they might if they had a Sherman law, and anti-profiteering statutes, down there.

Don't forget the kiddies in making the Saturday purchases. Be sure that they have a few fireworks, flags and tin horns to make a noise and impress upon their minds that on Monday will be observed the 144th birthday of the greatest, grandest, noblest nation under the sun.

Just a little nudge of reminder for Postmaster Mehan: "Don't forget the new financial postoffice that Lowell people want, and are entitled to have, in the centre of the business district." Pass it along to your Uncle Samuel, Mr. postmaster.

Yes, the Massachusetts democratic delegates to the San Francisco convention picked out a home-bound route leading through Canada. That doesn't signify, though, that they all wanted a "wet" plank in the party platform.

Autoists coming into Lowell over rocky, rutted, wretched First street are not holding prayer meetings, even if some of the language heard down that way would seem to indicate that such is the case.

Any decision declaring Miss Skilton disqualified for the position of police woman in special lines of work is peculiarly erroneous. To drop her would be a loss to the city.

Perhaps, if representatives of the park department will consult some member of Lowell's Greek colony, they will not again fall into the error of announcing a ten-mile open air running race as a "Marathon."

South America has been one of the few parts of the earth that war has overlooked during the last few years, but Chile, Peru and Bolivia seem to be getting into a frame of mind to repair the oversight.

Never have there been so many June brides—in Lowell and elsewhere—as this year. Cupid, at least, has heeded the cry to "speed up."

Most of those who hoped to see John Barleycorn galvanized into life as a leading feature in the presidential campaign seem to be destined to continue in the role of mourners at his funeral.

To the republican newspapers that are attempting to magnify differences of opinion at the San Francisco convention into serious party strife: "The wish is father to the thought."

There is an occasional rift in the near shutcase cloud. The true deliciousness of the native strawberry can be better appreciated without sweetening than with it.

It looks as though people were beginning to realize that wearing darning stockings is one way of getting in a blow on the darned high prices of hosiery.

VERMONT LEGISLATURE TO TAKE UP SUFFRAGE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Governor Clement of Vermont after a conference here last night with Senator Harding, the republican presidential nominee, indicated that he would immediately call the Vermont legislature in special session to act on the federal suffrage amendment.

The Vermont governor, while not stating definitely his course in the suffrage matter, was quoted in a statement from Senator Harding's office as saying that he "frankly confessed there was a preponderance of republican advice in favor of a special session called to consider ratification."

An Elastic Word

Friendship is an elastic word, rather. It may be stretched to almost any length and it can be contracted until it is unbelievably short and small. Like any rubber band friendship can, of course, be stretched too far—stretched to the breaking point. But it's very hard to stretch the best sort of friendship so far. Friendship may be the most elastic thing in the world. Some people do not realize the fact, but it can. It can be made to stretch past ambition, and around pride, and over personal vanities. It can change almost unchangeable circumstances—it can break almost unbreakable troubles. It can be, after all, one of the most beautiful things in the world.—Margaret E. Sangster, in Christian Herald.

By O. R. Joynt

All the fun has been taken out of electing a president. Used to be as many thrills, as much sport, as good a time picking a new tenant for the White House as in watching a circus parade, or going to a picnic. As a grandpappy to tell you about the good old days when he helped his father elect a president. He'll tell you how every boy in the village lined up on one of two sides, and how a democratic boy wouldn't speak to a republican boy, and vice versa; and sometimes it was even worse than that, and there'd be regular battles between 'em. The grown-ups put tall poles on the square, one for each party, with names of candidates on the banners. And always some rascal republican would haul a dead rooster up the democratic flagpole and then cut the rope, so's they couldn't get it down. And a rascal democrat would tie a piece of crepe to the republican pole and cut the rope. Then the men would sit round the barber shop and the general store and figure out ways of getting the rooster down (if they were democrats) or getting the crepe down (if they were republicans.) And every few nights there'd be torch-light processions, and if your pa belonged to that party you carried a torch and got all greasy and maybe burned your eyebrows, and if your pa belonged to the other party you threw blackbats at the parade. And you wore a cute little cap and your candidates' names on it, and had 'ol fight every 30 minutes to keep a guy of the other party from pulling the names off your cap. And at night you'd go with pa to the speaking and hear how the country would go to the dogs if the other side won and how everything would be perfectly lovely if your side won. You naturally took your politics from dad. You was what father was, and he was what grandpappy was, and if any of you ever swapped parties the neighbors called you a turncoat, which was about as bad a thing as they could say of a fellow in those days of long ago. They sure have taken the joy out of electing a president.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Downtown real estate is fast passing out of the hands of Lowell owners and into those of people from out of town. A well known local real estate man remarked yesterday in commenting on the transfer of the Hildreth building and adjoining property to men from Lawrence and Providence. In the past few years many parcels of downtown property have passed into hands of outsiders, he said, and he cited as prominent examples the Bradley building in Central street and the Howe building in Prescott and Merrimack streets. A number of other downtown pieces of property are owned wholly or in part by men who do not live in Lowell, and the result is that the city's business section, like its industrial property, is being controlled by people living beyond the confines of the community.

The following exceedingly interesting "Don'ts" have been given out by the Lowell Humane society to aid dog owners in the care of their pets: "Don't think a dog has rabies or is mad because he froths at the mouth. He may have a sore throat or a fly. "Don't accept the view that Boston terrier, bulldogs, or any other dogs must have their ears clipped. Clipping the ears is a cruel and barbarous practice, wholly unnecessary and deprives the animal of its natural comfort and beauty. "Don't be misled into believing that a dog has been incurably hurt if he develops a partial paralysis of the hind legs, for this is a most pronounced symptom of chronic indigestion. A compound cathartic pill is very efficacious. "Don't think a dog has a toothache if he shakes his head continually. Examine the ears; he may have a canker. "Don't forget the dog needs his bath regularly and likes to have his coat combed and brushed. "Don't forget that a house-dog needs cathartic occasionally. "Don't forget the fact that foul-smelling breath from a dog is symptomatic of a sour stomach or a decayed tooth. "Don't tie a dog to his kennel. If you must confine him have the end of the chain secured to a wire, where he can have the run of at least 20 or 30 feet. "Don't blame the dog for showing no ambition if he is overtaken on meals and sweets but allow him the freedom of outdoor life. "Don't muzzle a dog unless it is absolutely necessary. The wearing of a muzzle tends to make most dogs cross and snappy. "Don't forget that a damp and unclean kennel causes sickness and disease. "Don't fail to give the dog a bone occasionally, for the act of chewing on a bone sharpens his teeth."

"If we can't paint your home in less than two hours, we will drop the job, hire the best paint contractor in Lowell and bear the expense of making the exterior of your home look like new, but on the other hand if we accomplish what we claim we can do, you will treat us to a good dinner." This was the proposition put up to Mr. Isidore Cognac, of 21 White street last week, by two of his sons and five friends, while discussing the advisability of giving the house a fresh coat of paint, and of course the proposition was accepted at once by the landlord and last Tuesday night was set as the time for the wedding of the brush. Tuesday night the young men, all attired in overalls and each carrying a paint brush, reported for work. The weather was a little threatening, but that did not disturb them and at 7.15 o'clock the command to start work was given. Pulleys and ropes were securely fastened to the roof of the seven-room cottage, a ladder was thrown across the ropes and three young members of the "brigade" started work in an endeavor to win their bet, while the other painters got busy on other portions of the house, some on terra firma and others on step ladders. To make a long story short at 5.15 o'clock the last stroke of the brush was given, so that in one hour and a half the color of the little seven-room cottage at 21 White street had changed from yellow to brown and the young men were entertained at luncheon by their hosts later in the evening.

Those who took part in the painting were John B. Sicard, Alfred Sicard, Napoleon Sicard, Ernest Tanquary, Leonce Cognac, Peter Cognac and R. East.

It is safe to say that never before have the streets of the city been in such a slop of tar oil as that which has been poured over some of them within the past week. In many cases it forms pools in the streets and is splattered over the sidewalks by passing automobiles. The owners of the autos complain that the undergear of their machines is all clogged up with this street oil. Housekeepers find it impossible to prevent people bringing it in on their feet, to bedaub entrances, stairways and floors. The less man carries so much tar on his feet that he can be tracked wherever he goes leaving footprints somewhat resembling those of the camel on the sands of the desert.

AMERICAN WOOLEN CO. ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS MILLS SHUT DOWN

ANDOVER, July 2.—The principal mills of the American Woollen company, now operating only three days a week, will be shut down completely for an indefinite period on July 13. Pres. Wm. M. Wood announced yesterday. Cancellation of orders filled or ready to be filled and curtailment of orders for next season's goods, he said, made the stoppage necessary.

President Wood said it was impossible to forecast how long the mills would have to be kept closed, but he said re-opening would be ordered immediately there was any indication of improvement in market conditions. The announcement of the woollen company's head was made at an outing on his estate here of more than 1000 workers in the four mills of the company in Lawrence.

Another speaker was George Jeffrey of Adelaide, chairman of the South Australia state wool committee, who congratulated President Wood and his employees on what he said was the "splendid spirit of co-operation" between them. He condemned the "theatricality of those enemies within the gates" who have no patriotism or love of country, and whose only aim in life seemed to be to stir up strife.

MR. MORSE GUEST OF LOBSTER CLUB

Charles J. Morse, former commissioner, was the guest of honor at a gathering last evening at the Colonial ballroom of the Lobster club, an organization of Lowell men formed a few years ago to give its members opportunity to partake of this particular form of sea delicacy at Rye beach. Mr. Morse is one of the charter members of the club and last evening's affair was in the nature of a reception after his 10 weeks' absence in the west. There were 20 present and during the evening Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who was the toastmaster, presented Mr. Morse a pair of gold cuff links, and the former commissioner expressed his appreciation fittingly. He spoke at length and most interestingly of his western trip. Other speakers included John J. Mullaney, Daniel J. Donahue, Lawrence Cummings, Andrew Barrett, George M. Harrigan, Anthony Conway, and others.

INDIANS CRY FOR HELP

Have Slaved for Five Cents a Day for 25 Years to Support 3,000,000 Idlers

MEXICO CITY, July 2.—Twelve million Indians, who have slaved for five cents a day for five years at a time to support 3,000,000 idlers, cry out for help to the newly formed National Agrarian party, according to Crisoforo Llanes, who made the keynote speech at the party's organization meeting here, according to El Heraldo de Mexico.

"Since childhood I have lived the life of the peasants," said Llanes. "I know how much the toilers of the field have suffered, how much they need and how much they merit. They have spent five years at a time earning the miserable daily wage of ten centavos (five cents) tilling the earth with the sweat of their brow for other people's profit. In the beginning of our history as a people the Indians were reduced to worse than nothing by the Spanish agents, who, to enslave them, incited in them fanaticism for the virgin of Guadalupe, so as to be able to do anything they pleased with them later, by invoking this name; and the Indian was reduced to slavery."

"For this reason the Indian hates the white man. The Indians, who call the animal that roams the fields 'cuauhtli,' simply call the white man 'coyote,' that is thief. This because for a long time there have been in Mexico 12,000,000 Indians, who have supported 3,000,000 idlers and not a few Europeans, who also live off of them."

Butter attacks on President Carranza and some of his followers featured the address of the newly elected president, Antonio Diaz Soto y Gama, who said that Emiliano Zapata was his "only chief."

Soto y Gama pledged the party's support to the presidential candidacy of General Alvaro Obregon, because of his "radicalism," and because he is feared by the reactionaries.

Generals Alvaro Obregon, Salvador Alvarado, Plutarco Elias Calles, Antonio L. Villarreal and Gildardo Magana were elected honorary presidents of the new party.

WHERE THREE FUTURE PRESIDENTS MET

By a strange caprice of fate three future presidents of the United States were thrown together in the town of Staunton, Va., just after its capture by Gen. Sheridan's army, in October, 1864, at the close of the last Shenandoah Valley campaign. The story of the strange meeting was told by Stephen A. Sargent, past commander of Meade post, G.A.R., and former member of the 34th Massachusetts Regiment.

The three future presidents were Rutherford B. Hayes, acting brigadier general, then 24 years old; William McKinley, a private, 19 years old, and Little Woodrow Wilson, 9 years old, the son of William Wilson, pastor of the Staunton Presbyterian church.

"In October, 1864, we entered Staunton, Va., and began to destroy Confederate army property," said Mr. Sargent. "Staunton was quite a railroad center, and we destroyed millions of dollars' worth of tracks and rolling stock in its vicinity. There were also many Confederate uniform factories in the town. We burned the factories and blew up stores of ammunition and other supplies until the day was darkened by the smoke and the noise of explosions was deafening."

"A provost guard was placed about all schools and churches to save such buildings from destruction."

"One of the churches guarded was the Presbyterian church, where Rev. William Wilson was pastor. Through the window of the manse a little southern boy peeped with wondering eyes at the work of destruction being wrought by the 'Yanks,' and looked suspiciously at the two tall northern soldiers who stood before his father's house. The boy was Little Woodrow Wilson, future president of the United States. He doubtless saw both Hayes and McKinley pass his door at the head of troops, and no more dreamed that they did that he and they would head the nation."

Mr. Sargent said he remembered McKinley well and admired him.

"I remember one time when Gen. Hayes placed McKinley in charge of a picket line near the confederates," he said. "McKinley sat there, his face lighted up by the few burning logs before him. He looked the very picture of what American young manhood ought to be."

"Gen. Hayes was idolized by his men. He had raised two regiments of Ohio troops himself at the opening of the war."—Philadelphia North American.

VAST GRAIN SUPPLY

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 2.—Kansas wheat growers have been warned by conference at a meeting of railroad men, farmers and bankers that they may have to hold 60 per cent of the new crop of grain in stacks or bins on their farms, because of lack of transportation to the mills. There is a vast amount of grain from last year's crop still waiting to be moved.

Since the conference, in response to the appeal directed to the Interstate commerce commission, the commission has wired Secretary J. C. Mohler, of the state board of agriculture, that 14,500 cars will be sent to the mid-west states. It has been estimated that it would take 19,000 cars to move the wheat from last year's crop still remaining in country elevators and on remaining farms. The state's immediate need is 35,000 cars to adequately handle the situation, Secretary Mohler said. He has received word that Kansas is to get 11,000 cars.

When the present wheat harvest is over Kansas bankers will have approximately $100,000,000 "tied up" in 1919 and 1920 crops. Of this amount the bankers have advanced $45,000,000 up to the present time, on crops that have not been harvested. These were figures given by J. R. Anspaugh, secretary of the Kansas State Bankers' association, at the conference. "The security is good but the money is hard to get. It will strain every resource to get through safely," said Mr. Anspaugh.

Even the possibility of getting the grain threshed was anything but hopeful, because of coal shortage in the wheat country.

OSCAR OWL PAYS HIS RENT

"So I'm mussy, am I?" thundered Oscar Owl when Chick Chickaree (the Squirrel) said so.

"Yes," nodded Chick, happily, "you

You can't see very well, Mr. Owl, and you don't notice how many crumbs you leave lying around. I think you need to have your eyes examined at the dentist's."

"So I'm mussy, am I?" thundered Oscar Owl.

are. And the reason I slip up here nights to clean after you've gone out hunting is because I feel sorry for you.

FIRST AMERICAN LEGION FOUNDED IN 1792

CAMP PIKE, Arkansas, July 2.—The first "American legion" was founded in 1792, and its existence, by that name, terminated in 1796. War department records show that when the regular army was reorganized in 1792, following the Revolutionary war, it was first officially designated the "Legion" and was divided into four "sub-legions," of which the 4th United States Infantry was a part.

The idea of designating the United States army as the legion originated with Gen. Knox, secretary of war under George Washington. The army was patterned after the Roman legion, the old military organization under which Julius Caesar and his successors conquered as much of the world as was then known.

The American "Legion" was commanded by Gen. Anthony Wayne ("Mad Anthony") and was organized under his direction at Pittsburgh, Pa., in May, 1792. President Washington instructed Gen. Wayne "Do not spare powder and lead, so that the men be made marksmen." The legion fought its only battle as a legion, at Miami Rapids in the Kentucky-Ohio-Indiana country, August 30, 1794, engaging a force of hostile Indians. In 1796, it having been decided that the Roman formation was not suitable for fighting Indians, the legion was disbanded and reorganized into four regiments of infantry.

American capital invested in the oil industry in Mexico is said to exceed $300,000,000.

LABOR UNIONS TO PARADE LABOR DAY

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor council, held in Labor hall, Central street, last evening, it was voted to observe next Labor day with a parade, a public meeting and a band concert on the South common. A meeting of the executive board of the organization will be held next Saturday evening for the purpose of discussing further plans for the celebration. Routine business was transacted and the president of the council and Timothy F. O'Rourke were elected delegates to the state convention, which will be held in Lynn Aug. 2.

PRICE OF WILD ANIMALS HAS SOARED SKYHIGH IN GERMANY

BERLIN, July 2.—Like everything else in Germany, the price of wild animals has soared skyhigh. An elephant costs $6,000 marks as against the former price of 7500. A lion skin now brings 1000 marks, which is much more than a living lion used to cost. Owing to the great expense, it is out of the question to replenish Germany's zoos except by breeding and the keepers of the various zoos throughout Germany are co-operating in making their charges.

O.M.I. CADETS' MEETING

The O.M.I. Cadets will meet at 7:30 this evening to further plans for the annual tour of duty of the organization at Milligan's grove from Aug. 2 to 7. Nearly 200 members have already signified their intention of going to camp, indicating that many details will have to be taken care of between now and the date of departure. A large attendance is expected at this evening's meeting.

lists don't fix your eyes. They fix teeth!"

"Never mind," said Mr. Tingaling, the fairy landlord, "perhaps they could fix eye-teeth."

"Hopping frogs!" sneered Mr. Owl. "Oh catching by death of cold standing here idly by daylight, while you chatter about dentists. Go on, Chick. Tell us the rest."

He wasn't quite so cross now after hearing that the little squirrel had been the mysterious person who had been chattering for him.

"Well," continued Chick, "I do it because I'm grateful. You never knew it, but you saved my life once when my tail got caught in a trap in the woods. I'd been there all day, and along towards night I heard Mr. Man coming to see if he'd caught anything. I wasn't very happy, I tell you, and I was just kissing myself goodby when suddenly you flew right under Mr. Man's nose, asking him who, whom, whom he was. He had no business in those woods, so he turned and ran, and pretty soon Scramble Squirrel, my cousin, came along, and I got away. That's why I'm grateful to you."

Oscar Owl was very much surprised and pleased. "I'll pay my rent without any more fussing, Mr. Tingaling," he said, and fetched a bag of money out of his chimney.

"Thank you," answered Tingaling, marking it in the rent book, while Chick scampered away singing his happy little song.

CANDIDATES TO USE AIRPLANES

WINNIPEG, Man., July 2.—Airplanes, used for advertising purposes, will feature the election campaign of the members of the Manitoba government, who will seek re-election under the leadership of Premier Norris this summer. This unique method of conducting electioneering is new and is claimed by officials of the Norris government to be the first attempt to use it in the world. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer in the present cabinet, recently took a flight over Winnipeg and expressed himself as highly delighted with the possibilities of airplanes in the campaign.

Two machines are already engaged in the enterprise. They will touch at least one town in every constituency. Campaign literature will be dropped from the airplane as it circles over the town. After landing, the government supporter in the machine will address the crowd that gathers to meet it. Supporters of Premier Norris are enthusiastic over the scheme.

The machines at present engaged display an appeal urging voters to support the present government.

URGE CHINESE TO BURY THEIR DEAD

SHANGHAI, July 2.—Foreign residents of the Jessfield and Kiaochow road districts have asked the municipal council of Shanghai to urge upon the Chinese authorities to bury a large number of coffins containing the remains of Chinese that had been left scattered about fields and vacant tracts of the two districts. The complaint grows out of the Chinese custom frequently of leaving their dead unburied for long periods.

OVERALLS NEW WORD IN PORTUGUESE LANGUAGE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 2.—One result of the movement against the high cost of living in the United States has been to add a new word—"overalls"—to the Portuguese language.

When the overalls movement started in the United States recently, newspaper men here translating the Associated Press dispatches from English into the Portuguese language were perplexed. The literal translation would be "sobretudo" but as this means overcoat in Portuguese it would not serve. The translators finally decided on "roupa de operario" which in English is "workmen's clothes."

At present, however, since photographs have arrived from North America and the movement has been started here, no further effort is made at translation. The simple English word "overalls" has been adopted by newspapers and public alike. The movement is gathering momentum in Rio de Janeiro and vicinity. Agitation started by newspapers has been taken up by students who in a mass meeting resolved to lead the way in imitation of North Americans in combatting the high cost of living.

SUN PREVENTED SERIOUS OUTBREAK

MADRID, July 2.—The sun prevented what threatened to be a serious outbreak in Madrid during the recent bakers' strike. The first two days of the bread scarcity were dull and threatening and the hungry poor were so affected by the lowering skies and the lack of food that they paraded the streets in groups uttering shouts and menacing storekeepers who kept their establishments open.

On the third day the sun shone and although still hungry and compelled to wait definite hours for the loaves to be doled out, the people did so patiently and even cheerily.

All kinds of laws and police regulations were broken by the men, women and children forming the almost endless bread lines, but the sun

thorities took a lenient view of what occurred.

When an old man brought a camp bedstead, set it up on the sidewalk and stretched himself on it, a policeman arrested him and led him to the station house with his bed. The policeman first looked grave, then began to laugh when the offender explained he knew he might have to wait anywhere from 12 to 20 hours for his bread and had merely provided against fatigue. He was released and returned to his place in the line with his bed amid the applause of the crowd.

Another group hired a barrel organ whose owner played popular melodies while the people waiting with growing appetites and hollow stomachs danced merrily. On the Calle de la Magdalena, a cobbler arrived carrying a stool, his tools and a pair of shoes, which he was able to sole and heel before his turn came to obtain a loaf.

Similar scenes were enacted day after day amid general hilarity until the municipal authorities decided to break up the big bread-lines by distributing loaves from a large number of centers. The danger was then over.

PILGRIMS STARTED FROM SOUTH-AMPTON, AND NOT PLYMOUTH, SAYS MAYOR KIMBER

SOUTHAMPTON, July 2.—Plymouth is not the only port connected with the sailing of the Pilgrim Fathers, says Mayor S. G. Kimber, of this city, in a letter to the newspapers.

"It was from the ancient port of Southampton that the famous Mayflower set sail on August 15, 1620, in company with a smaller vessel, the Speedwell," he says.

"Owing to accidents the voyage was delayed by temporary stoppages, first at Dartmouth and then at Plymouth, and it was from the latter port that the Mayflower resumed her voyage alone."

"This gives Plymouth a real claim to the honor in connection with the

JACK BRITTON BEATS SHEVLIN

PORTLAND, Me., July 2.—Jack Britton, welterweight champion of the world, had much the better of Eddie Shevlin of Boston in their twin-six round bout at Bayside Park last night. It was a fine match throughout, but there was every evidence that if Britton had cut loose it might not have gone the limit. The mill was witnessed by a big crowd.

Attend today or tomorrow and enjoy not only a great series of pictures, but also the cool, refreshing breezes of this theatre. MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
William S. Hart can be classed without fear of debate as the foremost delineator of western characters of the screen world today. His latest production, "The Toll Gate," being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre as a feature of the current program, brings out his excellence in this respect. Hart's early life was spent on a western ranch and his portrayals are the result of personal observation of the characters of the now vanished frontier. "The Toll Gate" is easily his most thrilling photoplay. Mary, MacLaren in "The Poured Bridge," a comedy, the International News and the "Patriot" Magazine round out the bill.

LAKEVIEW PARK

If you want a real close view of a fine looking sealion, just take that nice short ride out to Lakeview park, where Aircraft Limited, a Lowell concern, has moored its seaplane for a limited stay. Business Manager Frank Hatcher and Pilot Philip E. Tait, a naval aviation lieutenant with seven years' experience, are both on hand and ready to make arrangements for passenger flights at a moderate fee. Weather permitting, any time of the day, morning, afternoon or early evening. Yesterday's wind was wrong, and although several flights were attempted, Lieut. Tait was taking no chances with the tall pine trees and resolved to delay the flights until it was perfectly safe. He has taken up thousands of passengers in his seven years' experience. In fact, he has driven about every sort of vehicle. Just now he is wondering where carrier pigeons it was that landed on his plane while flying high in the air a few days ago. Hundreds of people have already been drawn to Lakeview park to see the plane, which is moored at a specially constructed wharf near the pavilion. Arrangements for flights may be made either at the park or at Harry C. Kittredge's, 15 Central street. Sunday afternoon and evening there will be two free concerts by Minnie's full orchestra and special programs have been prepared. Watch the ads next week for the announcement of a special sealion night.

RESCUED DROWNING MAN

Edward McCormick Saves Man Who Jumped From Central Bridge

A crowd of a thousand persons witnessed a thrilling rescue from death by drowning in the Merrimack river at the westerly side of Central bridge, last night. Shortly before 8 o'clock Thomas M. Cox was seen to climb over the bridge railing and, without removing any of his clothing, plunge into the water beneath. An alarm was at once given and a large number of persons flocked to the scene.

The current in the river at this point is strong and Cox was soon swept under the stream. After his plunge into the water he made vigorous attempts to keep afloat but had difficulty in doing so.

Edward F. McCormick, a long distance swimmer and trainer, who a few years ago took part in a long swim down Boston harbor to Boston light, was near his home on Third street when he heard of Cox's plight. He hurried to the scene and, without stopping to remove his clothing, started to descend hand over hand from the bridge to the water on a rope that some one had thrown over the railing. When part of the way down the rope parted and McCormick was dropped into the river. He succeeded in reaching Cox, and after considerable difficulty pulled him to one of the piers of the bridge.

In the meantime the police had been notified and Inspector Walsh, Sergeant Hough and Officers Creamer and McClellan were hurried to the scene. They suspended a rope from the bridge railing and Frank L. O'Brien, 5 L street, and Thomas Ryan, 41 First street, went down it to the assistance of the two men struggling in the water.

The rope was finally tied around Cox and he was hoisted to the bridge. O'Brien and Ryan followed by the rope route and McCormick swam to the shore.

Cox was taken to St. John's hospital and was later taken to the police station where he was held on a charge of drunkenness.

When called to answer to a charge of drunkenness in police court this morning, Cox pleaded not guilty and was held in bonds for trial tomorrow morning.

The Woman Who Refused to Fuss

"What in the world am I going to have for dessert?" exclaimed Mrs. Crosby as she sank into a comfortable wicker porch chair. "I'm so sick of custards, and I simply won't fuss over a cornstarch pudding in this hot weather!"

"Mrs. Morris had a perfectly delicious dessert the other night, mother," said Mary Crosby. "It was a kind of chocolate blanc mange, and I remember her saying about its being her stand-by dessert. Why don't you ask her about it?"

"I'm going right in and phone her now," said Mrs. Crosby determinedly. Mrs. Morris answered the telephone herself, and in reply to Mrs. Crosby's distressed "Do tell me about the delicious dessert Mary said you had the other night," she replied: "Why, that was Pudding. Don't you use Pudding?"

"No. What is it? And is it hard to make?" "Pudding hard to make!" exclaimed Mrs. Morris. "No, indeed. All you have to do is add sugar and milk, either fresh or condensed, and boil for three minutes. When it has cooled you have a firm, rich mold of perfectly delicious, creamy dessert."

"It certainly sounds wonderful," sighed Mrs. Crosby. "Wait till you try it," promised her friend. "And you know it has all sorts of uses. I make the most delicious cake and pie fillings with Pudding, and I've never tasted such smooth ice cream."

"Does it come in more than one flavor?" queried Mrs. Crosby.

"Oh, yes—rose, vanilla, chocolate, orange, lemon—and Pudding is so pure and wholesome, you can let the children have as much of it as they want."

"Well," said Mrs. Crosby, "I shall order some Pudding right away." "I know you'll be pleased," said Mrs. Morris. "And, by the way, don't forget—a 15c box of Pudding will serve 15 people, or a 10c box serve seven people."

Include Pudding with your today's grocery order.—Adv.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 2.—(By the Associated Press)—There is great exultation among the Turks of Constantinople because of the alleged victory of the nationalists over the Greeks in the vicinity of Pergama, where Mustafa Kemal Pasha's forces are reported to have outflanked the Greeks and to be moving northwards toward Panderma (50 miles southwest of Constantinople on the Sea of Marmora) taking several thousand prisoners. There has been no official Greek communication for two days and the Turkish papers are not permitted to print news unfavorable to the Greeks but the Turks generally credit the reports of Mustafa Kemal's success.

The semi-final bout was between Tommy Marks of Charlestown and Frankie Sturges of Brooklyn with the decision going to the Charlestown scrapper at the end of eight rounds.

IRISH PARLIAMENT SUPPORTS DE VALERA

DUBLIN, July 2.—It became known yesterday that the "Irish parliament" was in secret session here Tuesday and Wednesday and that decrees were passed authorizing the establishment of courts of justice and equity and courts of criminal jurisdiction. A national land commission was appointed. Another decree provides for the protection of persons occupying land against vexatious claims.

It was announced that the $1,000,000 international loan had been oversubscribed by $250,000 when the loan closed.

The following message was sent to Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic":

"The Irish parliament, assembled in full session at Dublin today, unanimously reaffirms the allegiance of the citizens of Ireland to your policy, expresses complete satisfaction with the work you have performed and relies with confidence upon the great American nation to accord recognition to the republic of Ireland, now in fact and law established."

MAN KILLED BY ONE-MAN CAR WAS FRANCIS T. BURKE OF CENTRALVILLE

Through the efforts of Medical Examiner T. B. Smith and the local police the body of the man who was killed by a one-man car in Merrimack street Sunday night was identified last night as that of Francis T. Burke, aged 31 years and residing at 501 Bridge street. The identification being made by his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Burke.

The first report was that the man was Eugene McCarthy, but a brother of Eugene from Wilton, N. H., came to Lowell and failed to identify the body as that of his brother. Dr. Smith and the police later got in touch with Mrs. Burke, who positively identified the remains as those of her son, Francis T. The woman informed the police that her son was a steady worker, his last employment being at the city ledge in Prouty. He left home after dinner Sunday and did not return.

MAY LOSE AN EYE

LIQUOR RAIDERS LOST IN WOODS

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Medrie Cote of Monson, arrested on the charge of operating five big moonshine stills in the Westhampton wilderness, was admitted to bail yesterday. He will be arraigned before United States Commissioner John L. Rice tomorrow morning.

Federal agents who made the raids said that the raiding party lost its way in the wilds of Pompano mountain. They were forced to abandon their automobile and walk 15 miles through jungles and underbrush to Cote's alleged stills.

The officers say they found 1000 gallons of mash and 20 gallons of finished moonshine whiskey. Five stills were in full operation, turning out 50 gallons of whiskey daily, the agents say.

Cote ran when he saw the officers, but was captured. Cote's wife and five children were found living in a shack on a road leading up to Pompano mountain.

C.M.A.A. PILGRIMAGE

The annual pilgrimage of the C.M.A.A. at St. Joseph's cemetery will be held during the latter part of August or early part of September in stead of in November as in previous years. The change, so it is said, will be made because in August or September the weather is much more favorable than in November.

The pilgrimage of the association is always a big event. It generally consists of a procession from the C.M.A.C. building in Pawlucket street to St. Joseph's church, where a Libers is chanted, followed by special services at the cemetery, where it is customary for one of the clergymen of the parish to deliver a sermon.

WELTERWEIGHT TITLE OF N. E. AT STAKE

LAWRENCE, July 2.—The welterweight championship of New England is at stake Saturday when Irish Paddy Flynn of Everett will meet Tommy Kloby Corcoran of this city in a 15-round bout under the joint auspices of the Atlas A.A. and the Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control. The bout is expected to attract one of the biggest crowds in the history of ring circles in the east.

Flynn is cock sure of beating Kloby. The lad from Everett has been beating all the boys in his class and is confident that he will uncrown the Lawrence fighter. "Kloby will have to travel faster than ever," says the Everett boy, "if he expects to stay the limit. I will win and expect to knock Kloby."

Kloby, who came out of the Lawlor mill without a scratch is working out daily and pays very little attention to the statements of Flynn. "Flynn will have to fight and will find the going pretty rough," says Kloby. "I will beat him. I am just as confident as I have always been and Flynn's record means nothing to me. I am a fighter and I will win." The bout will start at 2:30 o'clock and will be held at the Everett gymnasium, Monday afternoon, July 5th.

FIVE-GAME SERIES OPENS TOMORROW

The Knights of Columbus and Pitts- South Ends will open a five-game series for the semi-professional baseball championship of the city at Spaulding park tomorrow afternoon and in addition to the big title there will also be a cash prize of $100 and the state records.

All preliminary details in connection with the series have been worked out and indications point to one of the hardest fought series the city has seen in many years. Manager Lyons of the South Ends will rely on Berlin and Tom McCarthy in the pitching department and Jimmy Liston will be behind the bat. The K. of C. followers will depend on Scully and Cawley on the mound and Walter Foye behind the bat. Umpire Bob Kneier will officiate and there will be special car service.

The teams have the following strong reserves from which to select their men: Pitts' South Ends—Liston, McCarthy, Berlin, B. Jenkins, McMahon, Buckles, Gallagher, O'Day, Green, A. Jenkins, White and Lyons.

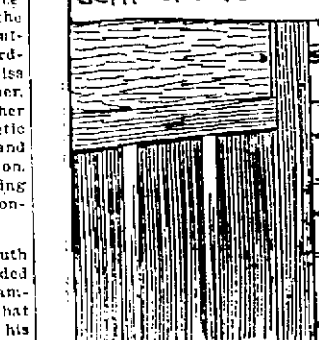

K. of C.—Foye, Cawley, Scully, B. Foye, McVey, Reynolds, Twomey, Lynch, Souza, McGrath, Murphy, Cord- lucky and Condon.

WALTER JOHNSON WINS NO-HIT GAME

BOSTON, July 2.—Walter Johnson of Washington pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of his big league career in 14 years yesterday, defeating Boston, 1 to 0. Hooper, on Harris' error on an easy chance in the seventh, was the only Boston player to reach first. This spoiled a no-run game for Johnson. He fanned 16 men. Harper pitched well for Boston.

In the seventh, Rice singled through the box and was forced by Roth, McInnis to Scott. Shanks' single through the box to secure put Roth on third. Shanks moving up to second on the throw to third. Shannon fanned. Harris batted the ball off Harper's glove and Scott could not get it soon enough to prevent Roth from scoring. Shanks tried to score, but was out at the plate, Scott to Walters.

After two pinch hitters had fanned in the last of the ninth, Hooper batted the ball over the first base but Judge made a remarkable mitt hand stop and threw to Johnson, who covered the base for the final out. Then the Washington players overwhelmed Johnson with congratulations.

MORE ENTRIES FOR SWIMMING RACE

Entries are coming in rapidly for the big swimming race to be conducted from Tyng's Island to the municipal bath house on the Lawrence river, Monday afternoon. Some of the leading "water aces" of the city have signed up for the five-mile paddle and it is expected that when it comes time to send the contestants into the water some 40 or 50 will be on hand. In addition to the big race, the bath house officials have arranged exhibition stunts and short races for boys and girls.

BALL GAME TOMORROW AT GRANITEVILLE

The Abbot Worsted Co. will meet the T. R. & T. of North Billerica at Abbot park, Graniteville, tomorrow afternoon in one of the biggest suburban games of the season to date. Last week's victory of the strong Natick nine has given the Graniteville men a lot of confidence and they hope to repeat tomorrow. On the other hand, Manager Higgins of North Billerica believes that his outfit can put across enough runs to bring home a victory. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Parker A.C. defeated the Eagles Thursday night in a fast game, by the score of 5 to 3. Daly's home run with two on the ninth was the feature.

The Crescent Hill Juniors would like to play any 13 or 14 year old team in the city. The following players are asked to report this evening at 7 o'clock on the Dixwell grounds for practice: Vandevay, Beaudry, Mahoney, Heald, Marsh, O'Brien, Dowd, Dare and Gallagher.

The Universals challenge any 14-16 year old team in the city, including the Willie Stars. Would like to have a game for Saturday. See manager between 6 and 9 o'clock.

The Mathews will play the Gas Light and the West Ends on the North common tomorrow afternoon.

The Saco-Lowell and the Chelmsford A. A. will clash on the Textile campus tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

At Washington park tomorrow the Glendale A. C. and the West Chelmsford A. A. will meet.

The Gas Light West Ends defeated the United Worsted Mill team of Lawrence on the latter's grounds last night by the score of 5 to 0.

The Bellaves and the Gillespie Mfg. Co. team will line up for a game on the Wood street grounds tomorrow afternoon.

PLAYING A SALMON
Landing 8-Pounder on 4-Ounce Rod Some Job
By MORRIS ACKERMAN
"Go ahead! Back up!"
Repeat this a few hundred times that salmon in the first place with our light outfit and only 50 feet of line.

We were fishing at the time from shore for a mess of speckled trout, when the big fellow struck.

Immediately after the salmon took our Parmachenee Belle it made a little rush up-stream of about 15 or 20 feet.

There it stopped and after a consultation of some minutes it was agreed the only way to "play" that fish out was to start it playing, or rather fighting. The principal "starter" was a large stone carefully thrown near the seat of trouble.

The line whistled out of the reel so fast you never noticed the click was on. Then two powerful leaps from the water.

Following this the performance was hitherforth carried on from a canoe as time and again that fish took out every inch of line, while we frantically tried to stay in with it.

First up river and then down, in and out, we went. Our outfit was not capable of budging that salmon so we had to keep it going by chasing it and then hustle the canoe back to keep from fouling the whole works under the craft.

A dozen times this warrior came from the water and each time as it went back we took in the slack with fear.

When at last we were able to bring our foe to the net there came over our tired body and mind that feeling that all real anglers love so well but seldom realize—a battle with a worthy foe in which your opponent has an equal chance.

CARE OF ANIMALS IN HOT WEATHER

The following suggestions have been given out by the Lowell Humane Society for the care of animals during the hot weather:

"Keep small animals in the house during the holidays, especially on the Fourth.

Keep dogs either in the house or on a leash when the traffic is heavy. Many accidents will thus be avoided.

Do not allow your dog to chase after your team or automobile.

If the dog is overcome by the heat get it into a cool place and put water for ice on its head. It is always better to call a veterinarian. Don't get excited and believe that a dog is mad when he is suffering from the heat or indigestion.

Feed all pets lightly during the hot weather.

If an accident happens, call the Humane society at once, telephone 1543, and thus relieve unnecessary suffering or bring the animal to the police station."

We addressed the words to our guide, Mr. Nichols, who was doing his best to comply, by the aid of a pair of strong arms and a push-pole in four or five feet of fast water.

We never meant to tangle up with earthquakes in the last 50 years.

VANZETTI CONVICTED

Found Guilty of Attempt to Kill Paymaster

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 2.—Bartholomew Vanzetti was convicted by a jury yesterday as one of the four men who tried to kill Paymaster Alfred E. Cox of East Bridgewater in December in an unsuccessful attempt to steal a pay-roll of $35,000. Vanzetti was found guilty specifically on three counts of assault with intent to rob. He will be sentenced Saturday. The jury was out five and one-half hours.

The daring of a guard frustrated the attempted robbery of the paymaster, who escaped injury, although several shots were fired by the highway men from sawed-off rifles.

BOB DORMAN, NEWSPAPER PHOTOGRAPHER, IN ACTION

THE CAMERA MAN

Bob. Dorman Tells About Getting Newspaper Pictures

How does the picture get into the paper?

A question often asked. Bob Dorman, globe-trotting camera man for The Sun, tells how easy it is to get some pictures for you, and how difficult it is to get others.

"Most people think," Dorman says, "it is easier to get a woman's picture than a man's. It is. In a studio."

"Practically all men asked to stand for a snapshot will assent with ready smiles. The exceptions are crooks and others having equally well known reasons for dodging publicity."

"But with the average woman it is different. She isn't sure she looks her best. She must have plenty of time to doll up. And then she thinks she looks better in another dress, or her hair 'is a fright,' or—oh, she can think up hundreds of reasons why she can't pose 'there and then!'"

"At the G.O.P. convention I met Chauncey M. Depew and his wife. I asked them to stand for a picture. Depew turned toward the camera, but Mrs. Depew reached for his arm, exclaiming 'Impossible! Absolutely impossible!' Depew winked at me, and whispered: 'Side door, 4 o'clock.' I got the picture."

"The best pictures of ball players and pugilists I get when they aren't looking. In action. Ty Cobb used to be the most photographed player. Now it is Babe Ruth. I take more pictures of Babe in a season than he bats home runs."

"The easiest proposition is the politician. Don't have to coax them. When Wilson was governor of New Jersey he was camera shy. Now he slips on a smile and off his hat the second he sees a camera. So with Roosevelt. He counted every picture a failure unless it showed his teeth. Harding is timid about posing. He wants to stand still. It's next to impossible to get an 'action' of him."

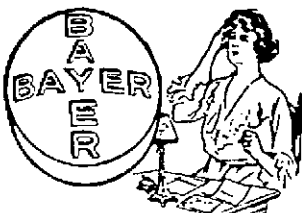

"Most men fuss a bit with their neckties when asked to pose. That's all they seem to care about. Uncle Joe Cannon doesn't give a hang how his necktie looks but he will make you wait until he sticks a stogie into the corner of his mouth."

"Once I asked Villa to face the camera. He was holding a conference with a flock of Mexican generals. Gave that as a reason for refusing. I argued him out of that and then learned his real objection. His best uniform wasn't on him. Postponed the conference while he ran over to his tent and switched uniforms. Then I got the picture."

"At Ojinaga Villa had attacked the federalists during the night. It was a peach of a battle, but you can't take snapshots on a battlefield in the dark. I mentioned the fact next morning."

BORROWED SAFETY PIN FROM MABEL ABBOT

BY MABEL ABBOTT, N.E.A. Staff Correspondence

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 2.—The democratic national convention is like a carnival, with laughter and songs and banners and toy balloons and pretty dresses.

The predominant note is that of high spirits and confidence: it's in the air as the crowd streams through the beautiful grounds of the civic center. It's in the campaign songs that run in opposition to each other in a dozen parts of the hall before the sessions open, no two in the same key, yet all blended into strange harmony by the general tumult.

Women Dressed Up

This is a gay, enthusiastic and extremely decorative convention. Women have a representation sufficient to make it look like a social affair, and they are all dolled up in their prettiest clothes.

From floor to the top of the gallery

the bright colors of women's hats and gowns are splashed through the great picture.

The temporary construction necessary to enable the auditorium to take care of the convention has not been allowed to make it ugly. The false ceiling of cloth, installed to improve the acoustics, has been decorated as carefully and as artistically as if it were the permanent ceiling of a theatre. The sprawling horns of the voice magnifier that hangs above the speakers' heads like some pre-historic monster, have been painted into inconspicuousness.

College Girls Aid

Even the board fence that keeps the crowd from jamming at the entrance is no longer a board fence, but a solid hedge of green tea plant branches. College girls usher share the work of helping delegates.

Delegates and visitors find their places. They know the hall by heart and work quietly and effectively, but they cannot help being very ornamental at the same time.

The Hon. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, borrowed a safety pin from me on the first day of the convention. He needed it to hold up an important part of his costume—his badge.

Daniels sits among the other dignitaries and the reporters sit below them, separated apparently only by a low railing, but in fact a high wall of official dignity.

Pin Saves Daniels

But Daniels was a reporter himself once, they tell me, and it's a fact that you never do entirely get over that. So when the badge without which even a secretary of the navy couldn't get

Notes

We are firm believers in the future of this country, and are convinced that industrial and other common stocks will, within a few years, be selling at very much higher prices than they are today.

We are compelled to recognize, however, that the reconstruction period which we are entering will tend to produce considerable fluctuation in the market value of all common stocks.

Many companies are now issuing well secured notes or bonds under agreement to exchange them, prior to maturity, for common or preferred stock, or both, at a price based upon today's market conditions.

These securities, or the stocks into which they may be converted, have a wide national market, most of them being listed on the New York and other exchanges. Banks everywhere readily accept them as collateral.

RT. REV. FR. SHAHAN HEAD OF CATHOLIC EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic university, Washington, D. C., was elected president-general of the Catholic Educational association of the United States at the closing session of its three-day convention here yesterday.

Other officers elected were: Vice president-general, Monsignor John B. Peterson, Boston; Rev. Edward A. Peaco, Washington; and Rev. Peter S. York, San Francisco; secretary-general, Rev. F. W. Howard, New York.

Resolutions maintaining the right of parents to educate their children according to their own religious faith and opposing legislation which proposed to centralize education in the control of the federal government, were adopted. The association declared itself in no sense in conflict with the laws of the authorities directing the public schools.

America has taken the place of Germany as the seat of educational accomplishment, Rev. James A. Burns, president of the Notre Dame university, declared in an address before the association.

MONEY FOR ADDITION TO MANN SCHOOL

Commissioner George E. Marchand will introduce an order at next Tuesday's meeting of the municipal council to borrow $10,000 for the erection of an addition to the old Mann school in Broadway, to be used for Vocational school purposes.

The school committee asked the city council some time ago to make arrangements to increase the accommodations of the Vocational school before Sept. 1. For several years the work at the school has been handicapped by congested conditions.

It was originally suggested that one of the Bigelow-Hartford mills in Market street be taken over for the purpose but the city council objected to this plan because of the expense involved. It was finally agreed to erect an addition to the present building to serve until the new high school is completed. Commissioner Marchand says that work will begin as soon as the loan is secured.

Law Forbids Use of Fire-

Despite the fact that July 1 falls on Sunday, the laws of Massachusetts for-special permission, according to Supt.

Redmond Welch of the local police department. The use of fireworks or fire-the night before. The law in this case, as quoted by Supt. Welch, states that "except on the 1st of July or on a day celebrated as such the use or discharge of fireworks or firecrackers without permission from the persons designated to grant permits, is prohibited."

Chief Saunders of the fire department

Large Decrease in Number of

The first year of nation-wide prohibition has ended and a start on the second year lap was made yesterday.
If there were any persons who believed that the bone dry law would operate to banish crime completely and make the members of the police force but little more than conspicuous ornaments, the results, as revealed by police and court records, do not show that their expectations have been fully realized. Summarized, it may be said that the records show that there has been a very large decrease in the number of arrests for drunkenness, that the number of what may be termed the more serious crimes, such as assault, burglary and larceny has remained about the figures of previous years, and that minor offenses have, as a whole, shown an increase.

An interesting feature of the statistics of arrests for drunkenness since January 1, this year, is contained in the fact that while there has been a large decrease from the figures for the similar months last year, the last three months of the period show an increase of 100 per cent. In the number of offenders over the number for the first three months of the year.

The Official Figures
The official figures of the number of drunkenness arrests, from January to June this year, furnished by Superintendent of Police, are as follows:

MORE EMPTY CARS
FOR LOCAL SHIPMENTS

The supply of empty cars for Lowell shippers is running so much more evenly nowadays that local firms are not worrying about the impossibility of shipping their goods. Although more cars could be used by Lowell dealers, a fair distribution and placing by the yardmasters seems quite satisfactory.
A considerable number of loaded cars with various products come to Lowell every day, but the evenness of the imports and exports of the city makes any surplus supply of empties practically impossible.

The daily average of empties which are placed with Lowell firms by the Boston and Maine yardmaster is 35.

Bryan Submits Dry Plank, While Nugent Acts for the

Today's Session is Late in Starting—Fireworks Expected

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—All set for the battle of the wets and drys the democratic national convention assembled this morning with everything ready for a battle royal.
The first skirmish of the fight was set to come on the submission of a wet plank by James P. Nugent of New Jersey, and a dry plank by William Dennison Bryan. There was little prospect of balloting for a nominee before tonight, if then.

Growing accustomed to late starts, the delegates and crowds were slower than ever in arriving for the fifth day's session and the hour of 19 came and went without hardly a handful of delegates on the floor.

Mr. Bryan came to the convention hall prepared to offer five planks as a minority report. His dry plank was the same as the one he announced last week. He has a profiteering plank, providing for the elimination of "unnecessary middlemen" and another very brief merely stated opposition to universal compulsory military training in time of peace. The peace treaty plank was also the same as the one he previously announced.

Another minority report, dealing with soldier was ready to be presented by Tom D. Lyons of Oklahoma.
It made no mention of a bonus but declared for a system of farm and home loans.

At 10:25 Senator Robinson pounded for order and the hall quieted down very quickly. The prayer was by Rev.
Josiah Sibley of San Francisco.

Amid cheering Senator Robinson presented Senator Glass and the reading of the platform began.

Committee Laid Before National Convention Today for Adoption

---Irish Sympathizers and Wet and Dry Forces Renew Conflict on Floor---Foremost Among Planks Came Endorsement of League and Bitter Denunciation of Republican Senate for Having Interposed "Partisan Envy and Personal Hatred" in the Way of World Peace---Declares Republicans Control Senate Only by Virtue of Money Used in Michigan Election

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Framed after days and nights of struggle with clashing interests and opinions, the resolutions committee draft of the platform was laid before the democratic national convention today for adoption.
Further conflict in the forum of the convention itself was regarded as certain. Irish sympathizers among the delegates had served notice of their purpose to seek to have that plank rewritten to include a flat declaration for diplomatic recognition of the Irish republic.

A wide range of subjects were treated, including agriculture, labor, soldier relief and a score more questions.
The preamble was brief. It was confined to a tribute to the leadership of President Wilson.

Accompanying this was an assertion that the president had repeatedly declared and the convention now reaffirmed that American institutions as a league member "must be fulfilled in Republican Senate Denounced Foremost among the planks came renewal of the League of Nations and condemning of the republican senate for having interposed "partisan envy and personal hatred" in the way of world peace. The president's stand against reservations "designed to cut to pieces the vital provisions of the Versailles treaty," was applauded, but coupled with this declaration went the statement, written in after a prolonged committee struggle, that the democratic party did not oppose "reservations making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the league associates."

MAJ. GEN. WOOD AND CHAIRMAN HAYS MEET

NEW YORK, July 2.—A half-hour conference today between Maj. Gen.
Wood and Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, caused a flurry of excitement in the offices of the party's national headquarters where a report circulated through the closed doors of Mr.
Hays' office that more passive support of the Harding campaign had been offered by the general.

"Gen. Wood will do everything consistent with his position as an army officer to further Senator Harding's election," one of the executives of the campaign announced while the interview still was in progress.

The report that the general had endorsed wholeheartedly in the Harding cause was strengthened when it was learned that he was planning to call on Sen. Harding at the latter's home in Marion O., within the next few weeks.

Gen. Wood would not admit that his call on Chairman Hays had any political significance.

"I am not in politics," the general said. "I merely dropped in for a personal chat with Mr. Hays."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Promised of the greatest debate over the question of Ireland's independence in the history of American politics hung over the delegates to the democratic national convention last night when they assembled for a session likely to last into the small hours of the morning.

The movement on the part of friends of Ireland among the delegates to have their way in the convention, in spite of all opposition, gained such impressive strength within a few hours yesterday that at the hour for reconvening, the battle over the League of Nations and prohibition, which are also scheduled, had almost been forgotten and interest in the Irish question was at white heat.

The resolutions committee early yesterday afternoon voted, 22 to 12, against the plank submitted on Tuesday by Frank P. Walsh and Senator James D. Phelan of California, which pledged the nominee of this convention, if elected, to recognize the present Irish republic.

Within a few minutes news of this vote reached a caucus of delegates friendly to the Irish cause in an adjoining hall. By a unanimous vote the caucus promptly reiterated its faith in the recognition plank and recommended that any minority report be based on the Walsh-Phelan plank.

Just before this vote was taken, Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, left the resolutions committee for a brief visit to the caucus and sent the gathering into wild flights of enthusiasm by the blunt declaration that he favored the recognition plank and would fight for it to the last ditch.

His attitude was considered particularly significant, as he has heretofore been lined up with the conservatives against the Frank P. Walsh group.

The Irish demand has assumed such proportions that the forces of the Wilson administration early yesterday abandoned all attempts to pacify that wing of the democracy with any declaration of sympathy written into a League of Nations plank.

When the recognition plank had been voted down, a separate plank milder in nature, but supposed to follow the lines of former resolutions of sympathy, was incorporated in the platform draft. Although this organized attempt to solidify delegates of Irish sympathies, originated with the men from New England and New York, it spread with such rapidity that when the caucus was called to order at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon no less than 30 states and the District of Columbia answered to the roll call, and designated men to act on a steering committee.

For Recognition or Nothing
In the three-hour discussion which followed delegates from Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey took a leading part, but men from the far west and even the south figured in the debate. Earlier in the day, Frank P. Walsh had sent a request for a five-minute hearing before the resolutions committee, to restate his case briefly. Notice that this request had been denied came to the caucus just as it assembled. Delegates called for a statement for Walsh and he took the floor to explain the morning's happenings. He declared that the determination of the resolutions committee to write a sympathy plank constituted politically hypocrisy of a high order.

"Both houses of congress," he said, "have already passed such resolutions, why should the democratic party pledge itself to do something that has already been done? We ask recognition or nothing."

A discussion of procedure was then in order. With John J. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Pawtucket, R. I., in the

Insists on Minority's Rights

"It is apparent," he said, "that a great battle will take place in this convention tonight. We are Americans recognizing the right of the majority to rule, but also the right of a minority to be heard. If when our champions in the resolutions committee introduce their minority report there is any attempt to choke off debate or to rush the decision through without a proper hearing, I want a man from every delegation to rise in his might and protest. Let them know that we insist on fair play, and we'll get it."

Shortly after this, Senator Walsh, whose victory in the resolutions committee in the early morning hour had made him a marked man, entered the hall, to receive a tremendous ovation.

He said he was bound in secrecy and could not report on the developments in the adjoining chamber, but he said enough to assure his audience that he would fight for the recognition plank from the floor of the convention.

"I want the United States to recognize the independence of Ireland," he said bluntly.

"The whole Irish problem can be summed up in a few words: Is self-determination a worthy principle? Our government owes its very being to an affirmative answer. If that is so, why not, in God's name, apply it to all the world, and not merely a part of it? The only argument against recognition is expediency, and why should that take precedence over the God-given right that men should govern themselves?"

Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell introduced a resolution that the caucus

ask W. Burke Cochrane of New York and Charles F. X. O'Brien of New Jersey, to assume the leadership in the battle on the floor. Michael

H. Sullivan, of Salem, moved to amend by including the name of David I.

Walsh and Senator Thomas Brown, of New Jersey, added another amendment to include Judge Sullivan. The motion prevailed.

Thomas J. Spellacy of Hartford, moved that a committee of 23 be appointed, divided into 14 sub-committees, to wait on the 14 men whose names have been presented to the convention as presidential candidates.

He declared that the delegates had a right in the balloting, to begin late today, to know how these men stood on the question of Irish independence.

Two or three delegates advised against the Spellacy motion, but there were only one or two ways when the question was taken.

There was a heated debate over the question of procedure and voices rose high at various times when men tried to take the floor from others. At one point Judge Sullivan of Salem rose and quietly remarked: "I hope all of us in here are of Irish blood. An outsider who might be listening would think from the hubbub that those men are right who say the Irish always fight among themselves. Let's

Sullivan got a cheer and the excitement died down.

At 4 o'clock the caucus took a recess until 7 o'clock, at which time the committees were to report on their interviews with presidential candidates and managers.

New England members of the steering committee follow: Maine, Daniel J. McGillicuddy; Vermont, J. B. Flanagan; Massachusetts, Daniel H. Coakley; Joseph C. Pelletier; Edward W. Quinn; Thomas A. Noland; Rhode Island, John J. Fitzgerald; Connecticut, Augustin Lonergan.

BOYNTON TO PROBE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

BOSTON, July 2.—Thomas J. Boynton, who recently resigned as United States district attorney here, has been appointed special assistant to the attorney general and will begin immediately a rigid investigation into the textile industry of Massachusetts to determine whether or not there is profiteering here.

The work will be carried on systematically and the books of every textile corporation in the commonwealth will be examined carefully and compared with government estimates. Mr. Boynton will make his reports directly to Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

perintendent of Police Redmond Welch, are as follows:

March	55	221
April	91	319

According to both Supt. Welch and Probation Officer Edward P. Slattery a large part of the drunkenness comes from the drinking of "jakey" and moonshine the increased sales of which have been shown in the larger number of arrests during the last three months.

According to Probation Officer Slattery the men who find their way into court are not as a rule of the class that could afford to pay from $12 to $20 for sealed quart bottles of whiskey. In only one or two cases have the men been found with sufficient funds when arrested to pay a fine of $5.

No Regular Dealers

According to Mr. Slattery the liquor that is being consumed is not being sold by men who were formerly connected with the liquor business as legalized sellers. The booze is mainly being sold in alleys and back rooms and by men who hang around the railroad station with bottles in their pockets and suit cases.

The "jakey" and moonshine that are being sold, Mr. Slattery says, are of the most villainous kind. He claims that they are but little better than rank poisons. It takes a man a long time to recover from the effects of a present day "jakey" or moonshine jag and in a number of cases it has been necessary to send men to jail to give them an opportunity to get the poison out of their systems. In some cases, Mr. Slattery asserts, the effects of drinking the different concoctions have been permanent and the persons are not likely to ever fully recover.

Arrests for offences against public morality have shown an increase and Lowell is less of a spotless town now than it was a year ago. Wife desertion and non-support cases have also largely increased, in the opinion of the probation officer.

Gambling Has Increased

Mr. Slattery also states that the amount of gambling in the city is much greater than it was in the days of the open saloon. Young men, especially, having been shut off from the life of the saloons, have turned to games of chance as a means of recreation and passing the time. Crap shooting is much more prevalent, Mr. Slattery says, than in former years, and many complaints are received from parents that their boys spend their time in tossing the bones when they should be at work or in school.

Lowell has never been seriously troubled with the presence of drug addicts. According to both Superintendent Welch and the probation officer there are few, if any, men or women now in the city who habitually use the hypodermic "gun," "Snowbirds," or cocaine snuffers, are practically unknown. There is no evidence either that there has been any increase in the use of other drugs, such as paraldehyde, ether and the coal tar hypnotics that has followed the advent of prohibition in other places. Other drinking, common among certain elements in a cosmopolitan population, is very rare.

That the sale of "jakey" and moonshine is on the increase is admitted by both the police superintendent and probation officer.

COMPANY G REUNION IN TYNGSBORO

Twenty-six members of Company G, 11th Regiment of Infantry, M.S.G., were present at a reunion of the organization at the Martin Luther clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

Immediately on arrival at destination two baseball games were organized and a game started. It would have been a great game if it hadn't been that a large part of the time was spent in commenting on the way in which Private George Lawrence, who is not exactly anemic, circled the bases, and in jeering at and kicking over the decisions of Umpire Gilbert Hunt.

The only catastrophe was a barked shin suffered when William N. Goodell and Capt. Royal P. White were in collision at shortstop. First aid treatment was required for Mr. Goodell. No one knows which side won the game.

At the end of the diamond contest an hour was spent pitching quots loading and card playing and then a clambake was served. The party started on the return trip to Lowell about 3:30.

three contractors who were desirous of doing the work. His figure was $59,739 and inasmuch as there will have to be some extra work not included in the original specifications in order to continue street car service over the bridge while it is being reconstructed, it was agreed at this morning's conference to allow Mr. Meloy not more than $400 above his original bid. Mr. Meloy will start work at once and his men will do the entire job except whatever minor work can be done more cheaply by employes of the street department.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL NOT INTERFERE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will not interfere in any way with the removal of Patrolman Michael Rynne from the municipal bath house to other duty, as ordered last evening by Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department, he said today.

Mr. Rynne's transfer comes as a result of a controversy over his wearing a regulation police uniform. For the past two or three years, the swimming pool has been more or less under the general direction of the mayor, and he has assigned Patrolman Rynne to the place in the double capacity of police officer and life guard.

This year, with the opening of the new bath house, the swimming pool has come under the jurisdiction of the park department, and several life guards have been appointed for that work only. Mr. Rynne has remained at the pool in the capacity of police officer, but has spent much of his time in instructing people wishing to learn to swim and in rescuing people who have met with accidents. However, the authorities wanted a uniformed patrolman on the job to prevent disorder. As a result of the controversy Patrolman Rynne was succeeded today by Patrolman Lynch. The mayor says that Mr. Rynne has made an ideal man for the bath house, but believes that inasmuch as the park department has full control of the place, it is not his duty to interfere.

EXAMS FOR CHAUFFEURS

For the first time in the history of the city, the inspectors of the state highway commission who conduct an examination for would-be chauffeurs every Friday at city hall, today had to hold two sessions to accommodate all the young men who desired licenses. This forenoon 60 applicants were put through the paces under the direction of Inspectors Hubbell, Hardy and Leary and at 2 o'clock another large class began its examination.

COMMERCE CHAMBER COMMITTEES MEET

The roads committee of the chamber of commerce met at the chamber's rooms this afternoon to consider the problem of relieving traffic conditions in Merrimack square. Plans for re-routing trolley cars, submitted by Supt. Thomas Lee of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway, were examined and discussed.

Aa meeting was held at noon today of the community advertising committee of the chamber of commerce at the Colonial at which plans for inducing the wider use of "Made in Lowell" labels were considered.

CHICAGO MUNICIPAL
STRIKE SPREADS

CHICAGO, July 2.—Dissatisfied with the action of the city council in denying practically all requests for salary increases, groups of municipal employees in many departments yesterday joined the 2000 city workers already on strike. The thousand clerks and stenographers at the city hall who struck earlier in the spring have called a meeting for tonight to consider whether they shall again walk out.

Police and firemen have decided on no action. They asked increases of $300 yearly and received from the council 75 cents a month, $8 per annum, making their new rate $2900.

The principal strikes today were in the building inspection and engineering departments, where elevator inspectors and electric engineers walked out.

To grant all the pay increases demanded, the council announced last night, would cost $20,000,000, while the city is already practically bankrupt and will have to discharge many employees to maintain the present schedules in some departments.

PLAYGROUND SEASON
OPENS WEDNESDAY

The 1920 playground season to be conducted under the auspices of the park commission will open next Wednesday and will continue until Sept. 1. It was announced at a conference of park department officials and playground supervisors in the aldermanic chamber at city hall late yesterday afternoon.

Several innovations are planned for this year's work on the playgrounds. For the first three weeks a representative of the national community service will act in an expert advisory capacity and during the summer from time to time, Dr. Charles E. Simpson, state health officer in this district, will give talks in the supervisors on the health of children.

The playground sessions will be held daily, except Saturday, from 9 to 11:15 a. m. and from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Several of the supervisors volunteered to assist in the first aid tent to be established on the South common on July 5. The supervisors will have their next meeting at city hall on July 2 at 4:30 p. m.

From 500 to 1000 lobster are caught daily by one boat along the New Brunswick coast.

Benson Warns Foreign Interests Not to Interfere With Our Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, July 2. (By the Associated Press).—Warning foreign interests not to attempt interference with the development of the American merchant marine, Chairman Benson of the shipping board declared today that the board was determined to build up an American merchant marine as contemplated by the Jones shipping act despite threats and propaganda by such interests to defeat the law.

"The United States," said Admiral Benson, "is in earnest in its efforts to place within the ownership of United States citizens, the control of at least a part of its traffic in imports and exports. It should by any possible means be held that the departments of the government lack such authority as will insure their being able to protect American interests in such control, additional authority will be asked by the administration and will undoubtedly be granted by congress.

Admiral Benson's warning was sounded in a talk to representatives of Pacific coast chambers of commerce and trade bodies and American railroads, who have been disturbed by threats of foreign carriers to divert business from American ports on the Pacific coast because of the section of the merchant marine act permitting a preferential rate over carriers within the United States on merchandise moving in export and import in American vessels.

Such a threat, the chairman said, "is futile and idle."

"If such a threat is sincere and the attempt is made to so divert the business," Admiral Benson continued, "the shipping board will allocate American ships to move the business. The shipping board and the Interstate commerce commission will follow this action by other steps which would further protect the interests of the United States against such foreign efforts."

to defeat the purposes of the merchant marine act.

"Nothing could more surely bring out the enforcement of this section of the law than adoption by foreign carriers of their threat to divert business from American ports.

"As this section is to be used only where there is an ample American tonnage to handle the export and import commerce to any particular port in a foreign country or a possession of the United States, we cannot conceive how anyone who has studied this law can assume that the shipping board would make a general application of this section. There will certainly be no enforcement of the provision without correct action which will fully protect all American interests.

"The transportation act has given to the Interstate commerce commission authority in emergency to direct traffic or establish embargoes against movement of freights. It also has authority to establish minimum rates on any commodity moving subject to the Interstate commerce act within the United States.

"The commission is aware of the necessity for preventing the distorting of traffic upon the railroads of the United States, such as would be accomplished by an effort by foreign carriers to divert the export and import traffic now moving between Pacific coast ports of the United States and the Orient, either to British Columbia or to ports of the Atlantic."

Admiral Benson said that in the trans-Pacific trade at this time, there seemed to have been specific and successful effort to prevent American vessels from securing return cargoes at certain ports, while ships of other nations have come with full loads. Application of the section of the merchant marine act prescribing preferential rates might be invoked, he said, to require equal consideration in cargoes from such discriminating ports for United States vessels, owned either by private citizens or by the shipping board.

The army has found the perfect man. It all came about because of the poor fitting uniforms with which Uncle Sam had to equip his army. The uniforms have been made to order on antiquated patterns, held to by the war department from time immemorial. Try as they could, army officers couldn't fit the recruits. Every now and then, by accident, a uniform would fit like the paper on the wall. It was in the majority of cases the soldier found himself wrapped in swaddling clothes. Instead of warlike snug-fitting military garb.

Just before the war the army took measurements of 100,000 men. From the average, the patterns were made by which uniforms were ordered. But the result was the same. The clothes wouldn't fit.

From now on they probably will. Dr. C. B. Davenport of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and a major in the surgeon general's department of the army, has solved the problem.

Average from 100,000 Measurements.

Measurements of 100,000 men of military age, the number being made up from every state and the District of Columbia, were taken during the war. The results have just been obtained.

The measurements show that while a man in Washington has an average chest measurement of from 35 to 38 centimeters, or 35 to 38 inches, his brother from the golden west possesses a chest which measures from 31 to 37 centimeters, or 31 to 35 inches in circumference.

Washington, Alabama, Montana, Illinois, Maine and Oklahoma men have chests which measure approximately the same, as an average. Arizona is a land of giants, for men there have larger chests than those of any other state, measuring as an average 41 to 47 centimeters. California, Colorado and Texas men show the same measurements. To reduce centimeters to inches, multiply by .3937.

The statistical branch of the general staff has taken the figures under consideration, and within a short time will be able to announce the complete measurements for the "perfect man" of military age in the United States—this perfect man being the one whose measurements coincide with the average.

This is the first time any such tabulation has been undertaken in the United States, and the medical profession probably will be interested in the results, as many new facts are expected to be developed when the final figures are obtained.

New Patterns Will Soon Be Ready

The quartermaster general's department already has begun frantically a preparation of the results. A number of manufacturers are under construction, as well as within a few weeks, and from them an entirely new set of patterns for the army uniform will be made. It is estimated that within a year there will be a new set of patterns, which will be sent to the quartermaster general's department, and the production of uniforms of the general staff.

Of course, there is a whole lot of other things which are similar to the one that has been mentioned. The quartermaster general's department is now working on a set of patterns for the army uniform, and it is estimated that within a year there will be a new set of patterns, which will be sent to the quartermaster general's department, and the production of uniforms of the general staff.

of men were selected and measured, these measurements ranging from a group which had the smallest proportions to a group which had the largest. There were 22 "sub-groups" taken in each state group. The averages quoted above were taken from the "sub-groups" in which the largest number of men fell.

The need for well fitting uniforms is a crying need.

Have you ever been in the squad room of a barracks when a recruit was being measured for his army "toys?" Here is a sample of the conversation: "He needs a 36 blouse," yells the corporal, measuring his victim. "Here's a 35—shoot 'em," yells the sergeant, throwing the blouse at the unfortunate "rookie."

ARBITRATION HEARING

Head of Conference Board Says Carmen's Wages Take Precedence

BOSTON, July 2.—William J. Murphy of Woburn, chairman of the joint conference board of the Eastern Massachusetts Carmen's union, testified yesterday in the wage arbitration proceedings at the state house. He contended that the present wage demands of the employees of the street railway company take precedence of the rights of the traveling public or the financial prosperity of the road.

"Do you take the position that if the company can't pay what the men ask for, unless the public will pay more money, that lines should be closed up?" asked Henry F. Hurlburt, representing the company.

"Shouldn't the capital invested in the road receive a living wage as well as the men?" asked Mr. Hurlburt.

"I suppose so," answered Murphy, "but I am interested first of all in the men and in getting a living wage for them."

Counsel Hurlburt sought to show that Murphy and other officials of the union had urged the men to strike last year after the award of the war labor board, granting an increase of 12 per cent, was made public, and produced a circular letter issued by the joint conference board sub-committee of the union in support of his contention. Murphy admitted having participated in the action, but denied that a strike vote had been taken.

Vahey Says Strike Was Wrong

Counsel Vahey for the men interposed:

"The men had no right to strike, and the joint conference board should not have done what it did, but this was the first strike in the history of the road. This strike last year were unauthorized by anybody. There are cases where men lose their heads and do things which they ought not to do."

"If the lines are closed up, how will the men benefit?" asked Counsel Hurlburt.

"Well, they can get other jobs," replied Murphy.

"Well, suppose they lose out on their chance, what then?"

"There are poorhouses left for them, I suppose. They might as well be living in poorhouses as work for 51 cents an hour these days."

Pressed by Mr. Hurlburt for statistics

governing the cost of living, Murphy said he was not prepared to go into details.

"Do you mean you want me to tell you what it costs for steak?" he asked.

Ogden and Hurlburt Bar Steak

"I don't think the board is interested in the price of steak," interposed Chairman Ogden. "For myself, I can't have steak these days."

"I've quit buying steak, too, at its present prices," said Mr. Hurlburt.

The union official then agreed to present tomorrow data covering the cost of living at various places in the territory over which the company's lines run.

The witness contended that in Woburn members of the union had been instrumental in preventing the adoption of a fitney ordinance by the city council.

"Did you try to help the company secure legislation similar to the legislation enacted to benefit the Boston Elevated?" asked Mr. Hurlburt.

"I was told that the legislature would not pass a bill for the Eastern Massachusetts the same as was passed for the Boston Elevated. The original bill provided for the same conditions as the Elevated bill, I understood," was the reply.

"Why did you not advocate the passage of a bill such as the original bill, then?"

"Because the legislature would not pass such a bill unless they eliminated the provisions for financial aid. If you understand certain things connected with that legislature and with the situation you will understand why they passed the Elevated bill."

"I can infer then, I think," said Mr. Hurlburt.

"Well, where is the money to come from to pay the wages asked for by the men?" continued the company's counsel.

"Selling the government," jocularly suggested Murphy.

thousands of students throughout China to compel the Peking government to disclaim all intention of opening direct negotiations with Japan concerning a settlement of the Shanghai problem has failed. Leaders of the national student organization in Shanghai attributed its failure to lack of popular sympathy and indifference.

Before going on strike student leaders called upon the government to issue a public disclaimer and demanded that the Peking authorities ignore the ultimatum. About 30,000 Chinese quit their classes in Shanghai and thousands of others went on strike in others of the 11 provinces. They remained out for a month or more and then called off the strike.

RED PILLS

The Invigorating and Reporative Tonic for Women

After the birth of my first child, I became excessively nervous, and frequently had such bad attacks that I would faint and would have to call the doctor. I was following a treatment for one year, but with no avail, as I was getting no better. One day a close friend urged me to try RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and I took them. After taking a few boxes with no apparent results, I was beginning to get discouraged, but my husband advised me to continue taking them very regularly, and after four months I was happy to be able to notice quite an improvement in my health. About a year after I was feeling fine in every way.—Mrs. Roch Guerin, 59 White Street, Cohoes, N.Y.

RED PILLS are a priceless treasure for women. They are perfectly harmless and are so easily digested that even the most delicate women can take them. They are especially adapted to anæmic women. The different ailments and discomforts which the weak and anæmic woman very often has to suffer, such as headaches, upset stomach, neuralgia, dizziness, flashes, swellings, palpitations, nervousness, melancholia, discouragement, metritis, displacements, are all caused by the weakness and poverty of the blood, and therefore gradually disappear as a woman gets stronger under the influence of the RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes, of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes, $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price.—Franco American Chemical Company Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston.

When I was eighteen years of age I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and they proved so helpful to me that I am pleased to have the opportunity of advising other young girls to take them whenever necessary. Through carelessness I had become weak and pale as wax, and for a whole year I was unable to do any work at all. The best part of my time was spent in bed, and the different kinds of medicine which I was taking were doing me absolutely no good. Someone told me of RED PILLS, which soon restored my health. Since that time I have great confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. John F. Sousa, 499 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

FIND UNDERCARRIAGE OF HAWKER'S PLANE

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 2.—The under carriage which Harry Hawker dropped from his airplane when he took flight from here a year ago on his pioneer attempt to cross the Atlantic without stop has been recovered, and presented to the public museum for keeping with other exhibits associated with the colony's history. The gift was made by W. B. Grice, M.L.C., who purchased the carriage after fishermen had picked it up off Cape St. Mary's, 200 miles south-southwest from the point where it was dropped into the sea.

When Hawker set out on his trans-oceanic attempt on May 18, 1919, he flew over the airfield of Frederic P. Raynham, almost on the edge of the coast. Within sight of his rival who was standing by his plane unable to take-off because of an adverse wind Hawker cut loose his under carriage as a gag to contest for the honors of the air, and to lighten his load, then winged away seaward with Ireland as his object. Raynham, accepting the challenge, sought to start notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, but he was unable to leave the ground and his machine was wrecked, he was injured, and his navigator, Major C. W. F. Morgan, almost killed. Hawker, it will be recalled, flew 1100 miles before engine trouble brought him down.

The under carriage was actively sought by Hawker's agents and by others as a souvenir, but search of the coast and of nearby waters, long continued, failed to disclose the wheels and their mount. Fishermen recently picked the carriage up off the coast, southwest of Cape Race, and brought it into Presque, where they disposed of it for a nominal sum.

TITLE FOR FARMERS

"Professor of Stacking" Conferred on Wheat Experts

TOPEKA, July 2.—The title of "professor of stacking" has been conferred on old time farmers who have mastered the art of stacking wheat so that it will withstand the effects of wind and rain. Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture, who confers this degree at the same time, urges that these veteran farmers be pressed into service to teach the younger generation the so-called "low art" of stacking grain.

Pointing out the need of finished stacks because much of the wheat crop must be held either in granaries or stacks on the farm, Mr. Mohler said: "The older generation numbered many men who could build stacks that would stand against the wind and thoroughly protect the grain against the rain and such stacks had the big advantage of 'stacking' the wheat and giving it a better color and quality."

CONG. ESCH FACES A HARD FIGHT

LA CROSSE, Wis., July 2.—Representative John J. Esch, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, one of the recognized republican leaders and dean of the Wisconsin delegation in the house with a record of 24 years of continuous service, faces a hard fight in the September primaries. His opponent for the republican nomination in the seventh district of Wisconsin will be J. D. Beck of Virgona, former member of the industrial commission of Wisconsin and lieutenant of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Mr. Beck is backed by the new farmer-labor alliance in the district, having the support of factions in the Society of Equity and State Federation of Labor.

Friends of Congressman Esch rely upon his large personal following in the district and the prestige which his position in the house commands to win the nomination at the September primaries. In 10 elections, Mr. Esch has led his democratic opponent by majorities ranging as high as 10,000 and never less than 5000.

SAYS SPAIN RULED SAME AS RUSSIA

MADRID, July 2.—Spain has been ruled since March 24, 1912, by its successive governments in the same way as Russia was ruled under the old despot emperors, assert the liberal newspapers.

"On that date the constitutional guarantees were suspended in all the provinces," says La Libertad, "and till this date have never been restored. Even when the general elections were in progress, public rights under one of the articles of the constitution, and then only the second paragraph of article 17, were permitted to be exercised—that is to say, the right of holding quiet public meetings."

"This permission was used by itself without being accompanied by the others concerning the same principle of the fundamental law. Hence what could be the object of holding meetings while the prohibition was still enforced against the free expression of opinion while the public authorities were paralyzed?"

The censorship, continually renewed, not only on Spanish papers but on all streams to the foreign press, also is severely criticized.

ELKS' CONVENTION AT CHICAGO JULY 5

CHICAGO, July 2.—The great international convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which will be held here July 5 to 10, is expected to bring to Chicago many more visitors than were attracted by the republican national convention. The hotel information bureau of the Chicago Association of Chambers says there will be a possibility of having all the Elks.

And west sports participated in by cowboy champions are one of the features which have been arranged for the entertainment of the Elks. The big parade of the week will take place July 7. The convention hall is the auditorium.

from productive interests and diverted to non-productive interest. We demand prompt action by the next congress for a complete survey of existing taxes and their modification and simplification with a view to secure greater equity and justice in tax burdens and improvement in administration.

PUBLIC ECONOMY

Claiming to have effected great economies in government expenditures, the republican party cannot show the reduction of one dollar in taxation as corollary of this false pretense. In contrast, the last democratic congress enacted legislation reducing from eight billions, designed to be raised, to six billions for the first year after the armistice and to four billions thereafter and their total is left undiminished by our political adversaries. Two years after armistice day a republican congress provides for expending the stupendous sum of $4,404,394,327.00. Afflicting great paper economies by reducing departmental estimates of sums which would not have been spent in any event and by reducing formal appropriations, the republican statement of expenditures omits the pregnant fact that congress authorized the use of one and a half billion dollars in the hands of various departments and bureaus, which otherwise would have been converted into the treasury and which should be added to the republican total of expenditures.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

The high cost of living and depreciation of bond values in this country are primarily due to war itself, to the necessary governmental expenditures for the destructive purposes of war, to private extravagance, the world shortage of capital, to the inflation of foreign currency and credit, and in a large degree to consciousness proterring.

The republican party is responsible for the failure to restore peace and peace conditions in Europe, which is a principle cause of post-armistice inflation the world over.

It has denied the demand of the president for necessary legislation to deal with secondary and local causes. The sound policies pursued by the treasury and the federal reserve system have lightened in this country, though they could not prevent the inflation which was world wide. Elected upon specific promises to curtail public expenditures and to bring the country back to a status of effective economy, the republican plurality in congress wasted time and energy for more than a year in vain and extravagant investigations, costing the taxpayers great sums of money, while revealing nothing beyond the incapacity of republican politicians to cope with the problems. Demanding that the president, from his place at the peace table, call the congress into extraordinary session for imperative purposes of readjustment, the congress when convened spent 15 months in partisan pursuits, failing to repeal a single war statute which harassed business or to enact a single constructive measure to help business. It busied itself making a pre-election record of pretended thrift, having not one particle of substantial existence in fact. It raged against profiteers and the high cost of living without enacting a single statute to make the former afraid or doing a single act to bring the latter within limitations.

The simple truth is that the high cost of living can only be remedied by increased production, strict governmental economy and a relentless pursuit of those who take advantage of post-war conditions and are demanding and receiving outrageous profits.

We pledge the democratic party to a policy of strict economy in government expenditures and to the enactment and enforcement of such legislation as may be required to bring before the bar of criminal justice.

THE TARIFF

We re-affirm the traditional policy of the democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only and to confirm the policy of having tariff revision upon the intelligent research of a non-partisan commission, rather than upon the demands of selfish interests, temporarily held in abeyance.

BUDGET

of an effective budget system that will function in accord with principles of the constitution. The reform should reach both the executive and legislative aspects of the question. The supervision and preparation of the budget should be vested in the secretary of the treasury as the representative of the people. The budget, as such, should not be increased by the congress except by a two-thirds vote, each house being free to exercise its constitutional privilege of making appropriations through independent bills. The appropriation bills should be considered by single committees of the house and senate. The audit system should be consolidated and its powers expanded so as to pass upon the wisdom of, as well as the authority for expenditures.

A budget bill was passed in the closing days of the second session of the 66th congress, which, notwithstanding plain, constitutional defects, and defaced by considerations of patronage, the president was obliged to veto. The house amended the bill to meet the objection. We condemn the republican senate for affirming without passing the amendment measure, when by doing so has been so materially reduced as to drive out of business the farm loan system and has built up the rural system and has built up the rural system to such an extent as to render its practical services indispensable to the farming community.

SENATE RULES

We favor such alteration of the rules of procedure of the senate of the United States as will permit the prompt transaction of the nation's legislative business.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

To the great agricultural interests of the country, the democratic party does not find it necessary to make promises. It already is rich in its record of things actually accomplished. For nearly half a century of republican rule not a sentence was written into the federal statutes effecting one dollar to bank credits to the farming interests of America.

In the first term of this democratic administration the bank act was so altered to authorize loans of five years maturity on improved farm lands, later, was established a system of farm loan lands from which the borrowing already exceeded $100,000,000, and under which the interest rate to farmers has been so materially reduced as to drive out of business the farm loan system and has built up the rural system and has built up the rural system to such an extent as to render its practical services indispensable to the farming community.

Thus, it was a democratic congress in the administration of a democratic president which enabled the farmers for the first time to obtain credit upon reasonable terms and insured their opportunity for the future in development of the nation's agricultural resources. Tied-up in supreme court proceedings, in a suit by hostile interests, the federal farm loan system, originally approved by the republican candidate for the presidency, appealed to a republican congress for adequate financial assistance to tide over the interim between the beginning and ending of the current year, awaiting a final decision of the highest court on the validity of the act. We pledge prompt and consistent support of sound and effective measures to sustain, amplify and perfect the rural credit statutes and thus to check and reduce the growth and course of farm tenancy.

Not only did the democratic party put into effect a great farm loan system of land mortgage banks but it passed the Smith-Lever agricultural act, carrying to every farmer in every section of the country through the medium of trained experts and by demonstration farms, the practical knowledge acquired by the federal agricultural department in all things pertaining to agricultural horticulture and animal life, it established the bureau of market, the bureau of farm management and passed the cotton futures act, the grain growth bill, the co-operative farm administration act, and the federal warehouse act. The democratic party has vastly improved the rural system and has built up the rural system to such an extent as to render its practical services indispensable to the farming community. It was this wise encouragement and this effective concern of the democratic party for the farmers of the United States that enabled this great interest to render such essential service in feeding the armies of America and the allied nations of the war and succoring starving populations since armistice day.

Collective Bargaining

Meanwhile the republican leaders at Washington have failed to propose one single measure to make rural life more tolerable. They have signalled their 15 months of congressional power by urging schemes which would strip the farms of labor by assailing the principles of the farm loan system and seeking to impair its efficiency; by covertly attempting to destroy the great nitrogen plant at Muscle Shoals upon which the government has expended $7,000,000 to supply American farmers with fertilizers at reasonable cost; by ruthlessly crippling nearly every branch of agricultural endeavor, literally crippling the productive mediums through which the people must be fed.

We favor such legislation as will confirm to primary producers of the nation the right of collective bargaining and the right of co-operative handling and marketing of the products of workshops and the farm and such legislation as will facilitate the exportation of our farm products.

We favor comprehensive studies of farm production costs and the uncer-

LABOR AND INDUSTRY
The democratic party is now as ever, the firm friend of honest labor and the promoter of progressive industry. It established the department of labor at Washington and a democratic president called to his council board the first practical working man who ever held a cabinet portfolio. Under this administration have been established employment bureaus to bring the man and the job together; have peacefully determined many bitter disputes between capital and labor; passed the child labor act, the workmen's compensation act (the extension of which we advocate so as to include laborers engaged in loading and unloading ships and in interstate commerce); the eight hour law, the act for vocational training, and a code of other workmen's laws affecting and bettering the condition of the working class.

In the department of labor the democratic party established a woman's bureau which the republican congress destroyed by withholding appropriations.

Labor is not a commodity, it is human. Those who labor have rights and national security and safety depend upon a just recognition of those rights; and the conservation of strength of workers and their families in the interest of a sound-hearted and sound-headed men, women and children. Laws relating to hours of labor and conditions under which labor is performed, when passed in recognition of the conditions under which life must be lived to attain the highest development and happiness are just asser-

At the same time, the nation depends upon the products of labor; a cessation of production means loss and if long continued disaster. The whole people, therefore, have a right to insist that justice shall be done to those who work and in return those who labor and hold the necessities upon which the life of the nation depends must recognize the reciprocal obligation between the worker and the state. They should participate in the formulation of sound laws and regulations governing the conditions under which labor is performed, recognize and obey the laws so formulated and seek their amendment when necessary by the processes ordinarily addressed to the laws and regulations affecting the other relations of life.

Labor and Capital Have Rights

Labor, as well as capital, is entitled to adequate compensation. Each has the indefensible right of organization, of collective bargaining and of speaking through representatives of their own selection at any time and in any circumstances take action that will put in jeopardy the public welfare. Resort to strikes and lockouts, which endanger the lives of the people, is an unsatisfactory device for determining disputes, and the democratic party pledges itself to continue, if possible and put into effective operation a fair and comprehensive method of composing differences of this nature. In private industrial disputes, we are opposed to compulsory arbitration as a method plausible in theory but a failure in fact. With respect to government service, we hold distinctly that

"Mrs. H. M. Mearns, 75 Polk Street, says: 'I and my husband were married in 1914, and we had a son at that time. In the morning I was very tired and I went to bed. I often had very bad headaches. The children were very mischievous and annoyed me. My young friend, Bill, had been in my house many times, and he had a supply of food and things. They even had my bath towels and such. I felt like a different woman and I am always glad to embrace them.'

The couple will make their home in Revere.

McMaster—Fadden

The marriage of Mr. Charles Henry McMaster of Chelmsford and Miss Ella Fadden of Carlisle took place Wednesday afternoon, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Daniel J. Hatfield, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of this city. The couple were attended by Mr. James E. Dollard and Miss Helen E. Paigson.

Sullivan—Moran

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday night when Mr. Clifford J. Sullivan, son of Patrobian and Mrs. John J. Sullivan of Arlington street, and Miss Bertha A. Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Moran of 49 Highland avenue, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at St. Margaret's church by the pastor, Rev. C. J. Gulligan. The bride wore white georgette crepe with veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Misses Alice K. Sheehan and Grace Cullen, who were both dressed in pink with hats to match and carried carnations. The best man was Mr. Francis Sheehy, a cousin of the groom. A reception was held at the home of the bride and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, and upon their return they will make their home at 49 Highland avenue.

Murphy—Scanton
Mr. Michael W. Murphy, an overseas veteran, and Miss Mae Scanton, a popular young woman of this city, were married Wednesday at St. Patrick's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. The bride was attired in a gown of silk net over satin with veil caught up with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude F. Scanton, a sister of the bride, wore blue satin and carried Kilmory roses. The best man was Mr. Francis Murphy, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pink sapphire ring, while the groom's favor to the best man was an amethyst ring. The couple will make their home in this city.

Bergeon—Harvey

Mr. Elphege Bergeon and Miss Florida Harvey, two well known residents of this city, were married June 27, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I. The couple were attended, the bride by her brother, Mr. Valerie Harvey, and the groom by his father, Mr. Lucien Bergeon. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 116 Gershon avenue, and later Mr. and Mrs. Bergeon, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on a honeymoon trip to Canada and upon their return in two weeks they will make their home at 116 Gershon avenue.

Hennessy—Nash

A pretty out-of-town wedding of interest to Lowell people was solemnized at St. Peter's church, Nashua, Wednesday morning, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Mary A. Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Nash of that city, became the bride of Mr. Michael T. Hennessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hennessy of 335 Fletcher street, this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Matthew Creamer. The bridesmaid was Miss Catherine O'Neill of Nashua and the best man Mr. John Hennessy of this city, a brother of the bridegroom. The bride presented a charming picture in a gown of white chiffon with satin overdress and wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore pink georgette, a pink picture hat and carried pink roses. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the couple, including many from Lowell. Later in the day

Continued
The Nebraska who left the committee room last night with a smile on his face after his home dry resolution had been defeated was still determined to urge the adoption of his prohibition plank.

Leaders in the convention said they looked for a long debate despite the fact that speeches are limited to 30 minutes each in discussing planks.

Voting for a presidential nominee will begin immediately after the platform is adopted. There is talk of taking one or two ballots so as to get the line of the delegates and then taking a recess in order to allow the various managers of candidates time to plan for the final drive.

Midnight on Convention Floor
Midnight efforts to compose the differences over the wet and dry issue in the platform committee failed after prolonged hours of argument, acrimony and oratory. When all the eleventh hour attempts at harmony were given up it was announced finally that all proposals to include any kind of prohibition plank whatever had been beaten by dry votes and that the question would be brought to the open floor of the convention.

Last night's disappointed crowd which had packed the great auditorium from floor to rafters keen on the spectacle of William J. Bryan settling off the fireworks, trailed to the convention hall again today determined not to be cheated out of the show by postponements or delays.

Bryan vs. Colby

Under the program agreed upon Mr. Bryan will present his side of the question in a speech limited to 30 minutes and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state will present the committee manager's side in another 30 minutes. That arrangement, however, does not by any means confine the discussion to one hour. Any number of persons desiring to speak, who may be recognized by Permanent Chairman Robinson, also may be heard for 30 minutes each. In view of Mr. Bryan's well-known fighting spirit and his demonstrated staying qualities, no one is bold enough to predict that the fight will be short. Bryan's repeatedly announced determination for a platform so wet can run on and his announcement of last night assured a prolonged struggle, and even though the predictions of the administration forces that they would be able to "choke Bryan off" were to be fulfilled there was no prospect that they would be carried out quickly.

Meeting Held in Closed Doors
Exactly what took place in the meeting of the resolutions committee last night has not been fully disclosed, but it is known that when at the close of the afternoon session all prohibition planks were voted out of the platform, Mr. Bryan in a long and fiery speech told the committee that while he realized that the administration forces had the votes to put over their program, they would do so at the peril of his opposition. Whatever is the full import of what Mr. Bryan threatened was sufficient to cause the committee, after being all ready to make its report, to reconsider its decision and decide to hear Mr. Bryan at a further session while the convention waited.

At this session Mr. Bryan, it is said, continued his attack on the administration forces who pleaded with him not to pursue a course which would make for party discord and endanger party success in November. Mr. Bryan, however, reports from inside the committee room, said, was adamant and the majority finally gave up all hopes of reconciling him and decided to face the proposition of an open fight on the floor.

With those prospects before it, the convention when it resumed today faced the possibility of a program that might carry it far into a night session after probably a brief recess for dinner. Whether the floor battles could be ended in time to take a balloting for a nominee before the convention would have to come to a close from exhaustion, was the question.

"Big Three" Forces Active

The McAdoo boomers took advantage of the interruption in the program to continue strengthening their lineup. Although they had opposed a suspension of the rules and a proposition to proceed to balloting ahead of the report of the platform committee early yesterday, they were ready to accept that program last night, but those who had agreed to the idea earlier would not go on with it because the McAdoo forces had been using the interim to strengthen their position. Before intimations of the convention being packed at last night's session with an eye to the possibilities of a stampede, Cox forces while their delegates standing firm acknowledged that they had not been fortunate in making accessions and among the Palmer delegates the McAdoo forces were counting on additions to their candidate as a second choice. The McAdoo boomers were so confident of their position as to predict a nomination for him on the fifth ballot if not before.

INDIANS CRY FOR HELP

Have Slaved for Five Cents a Day for 25 Years to Support 3,000,000 Idlers

MEXICO CITY, July 2.—Twelve million Indians, who have slaved for five cents a day for five years at a time to support 3,000,000 idlers, cry out for help to the newly formed Cynoforo Ibáñez, who made the keynote speech at the party's organization meeting here, according to El Heraldo de México.

"Since childhood I have lived the life of the peasants," said Ibáñez. "I know how much the toilers of the field have suffered, how much they need and how much they merit. They have spent five years at a time earning the miserable daily wage of ten centavos (five cents) tilling the earth with the sweat of their brow for other people's profit. In the beginning of our history as a people, the Indians were reduced to worse than nothing by the Spaniards, who, to enslave them, incited in them fanaticism for the virgin of Guadalupe, so as to be able to do anything they pleased with them later, by invoking this name; and the Indian was reduced to slavery."

"For this reason the Indian hates the white man. The Indians, who call the animal that roams the fields 'ranchocoyote,' simply call the white man 'coyote,' that is thief. This because for a long time there have been in Mexico 12,000,000 Indians, who have supported 3,000,000 idlers and not a few Europeans, who also live off of them."

Soto y Gama pledged the party's support to the presidential candidacy of General Alvaro Obregón because of his "radicalism," and because he is feared by the reactionaries.

Generals Alvaro Obregón, Salvador Alvarado, Plutarco Elías Calles, Antonio J. Villarreal and Gildardo Magaña were elected honorary presidents of the new party.

WHERE THREE FUTURE PRESIDENTS MET

By a strange caprice of fate three future presidents of the United States were thrown together in the town of Staunton, Va., just after its capture by Gen. Sheridan's army, in October, 1864, at the close of the last Shenandoah Valley campaign. The story of the strange meeting was told by Stephen A. Sargent, past commander of Meade post, G.A.R., and former member of the 34th Massachusetts Regiment.

The three future presidents were Rutherford B. Hayes, acting brigadier general, then 24 years old; William McKinley, a private, 19 years old, and Little Woodrow Wilson, 9 years old, the son of William Wilson, pastor of the Staunton Presbyterian church.

"In October, 1864, we entered Staunton, Va., and began to destroy Confederate army property," said Mr. Sargent. "Staunton was quite a railroad centre, and we destroyed millions of dollars' worth of tracks and rolling stock in its vicinity. There were also many Confederate uniform factories in the town. We burned the factories and blew up stores of ammunition and other supplies until the day was darkened by the smoke and the noise of explosions was deafening."

"A provost guard was placed about all schools and churches to save such buildings from destruction."

"One of the churches guarded was the Presbyterian church where Rev. William Wilson was pastor. Through the window of the manse a little southern boy peeped with wondering eyes at the work of destruction being wrought by the 'Yanks,' and looked suspiciously at the two tall northern soldiers who stood before his father's house. The boy was Little Woodrow Wilson, future president of the United States. He doubtless saw both Hayes and McKinley pass his door as the head of troops, and no more dreamed than they did that he and they would head the nation."

Mr. Sargent said he remembered McKinley well and admired him.

"I remember one time when Gen. Hayes placed McKinley in charge of a picket line near the confederates," he said. "McKinley sat there, his face lighted up by the few burning logs before him. He looked the very picture of what American young manhood ought to be."

"Gen. Hayes was idolized by his men. He had raised two regiments of Ohio troops himself at the opening of the war."—Philadelphia North American.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 2.—Kansas wheat growers have been warned by conferees at a meeting of railroad men, farmers and bankers that they may have to hold 60 per cent of the new crop of grain in stacks or bins on their farms, because of lack of transportation to the mills. There is a vast amount of grain from last year's crop still waiting to be moved.

Since the conference, in response to the appeal, directed to the interstate commerce commission, the commission has wired Secretary J. C. Mohler, of the state board of agriculture, that 14,500 cars will be sent to the mid-west states. It has been estimated that it would take 19,000 cars to move the wheat from last year's crop still remaining in country elevators and in Kansas farms. The state's immediate need is 35,000 cars to adequately handle the situation, Secretary Mohler said. He has received word that Kansas is to get 11,000 cars.

When the present wheat harvest is over Kansas bankers will have approximately $100,000,000 "tied up" in 1919 and 1920 crops. Of this amount the bankers have advanced $65,000,000 up to the present time, on crops that have not been harvested. There were figures given by J. R. Anspaugh, secretary of the Kansas State Bankers' association, at the conference. "The security is good but the money is hard to get. It will strain every resource to get through safely," said Mr. Anspaugh.

Even the possibility of getting the grain threshed was anything but hopeful, because of coal shortage in the wheat country.

OSCAR OWL PAYS HIS DEBT

FOUNDED IN 1792

CAMP PIKE, Arkansas, July 2.—The first "American Legion" was founded in 1792, and its existence, by that name, terminated in 1796. War department records show that when the regular army was reorganized in 1792, following the Revolutionary war, it was first officially designated the "Legion" and was divided into four "sub-legions," of which the 4th United States Infantry was a part.

The idea of designating the United States army as the legion originated with Gen. Knox, secretary of war under George Washington. The army was patterned after the Roman legion, the old military organization under which Julius Caesar and his successors conquered as much of the world as was then known.

The American "Legion" was commanded by Gen. Anthony Wayne ("Mad Anthony") and was organized under his direction at Pittsburgh, Pa., in May, 1792. President Washington instructed Gen. Wayne "to do not spare powder and lead, so that the men be made marksmen." The Legion fought its only battle as a legion, at Miami Rapids in the Kentucky-Ohio-Indiana country, August 30, 1794, engaging a force of hostile Indians. In 1796, it having been decided that the Roman formation was not suitable for fighting Indians, the Legion was disbanded and reorganized into four regiments of infantry.

LABOR UNIONS TO PARADE LABOR DAY

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor council, held in Labor hall, Central street, last evening, it was voted to observe next Labor day with a parade, a public meeting and a band concert on the South common. A meeting of the executive board of the organization will be held next Saturday evening for the purpose of discussing further plans for the celebration. Routine business was transacted and the president of the council and Timothy P. O'Rourke were elected delegates to the state convention, which will be held in Lynn Aug. 2.

PRICE OF WILD ANIMALS HAS SOARED SKYHIGH IN GERMANY

BERLIN, July 2.—Like everything else in Germany, the price of wild animals has soared skyhigh. An elephant costs 80,000 marks as against the former price of 15,000. A lion skin now brings 4000 marks, which is much more than a living lion used to cost. Owing to the great expense, it is out of the question to replenish Germany's zoos except by trading and the keepers of the various zoos throughout Germany are co-operating in raising their charges.

A large attendance is expected at this evening's meeting.

OVERALLS NEW WORD IN PORTUGUESE LANGUAGE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 2.—One result of the movement against the high cost of living in the United States has been to add a new word—"overalls"—to the Portuguese language.

When the overalls movement started in the United States recently, newspaper men here translating the Associated Press dispatches from English into the Portuguese language were perplexed. The literal translation would be "sobretudo" but as this means overcoat in Portuguese it would not serve. The translators finally decided on "roupa de operario" which in English is "workman's clothes."

At present, however, since photographs have arrived from North America and the movement has been started here, no further effort is made at translation. The simple English word "overalls" has been adopted by newspapers and public alike.

The movement is gathering momentum in Rio de Janeiro and vicinity. Agitation started by newspapers has been taken up by students who in a mass meeting resolved to limit the way in imitation of North Americans in combatting the high cost of living.

SUN PREVENTED SERIOUS OUTBREAK

MADRID, July 2.—The sun prevented what threatened to be a serious outbreak in Madrid during the recent bakers' strike. The first two days of the bread scarcity were dull and threatening and the hungry poor were so affected by the lowering skies and the lack of food that they paraded the streets in groups uttering shouts and menacing storekeepers who kept their establishments open.

On the third day the sun shone and although still hungry and compelled to wait definite hours for the loaves to be doled out, the people did so patiently and even cheerily.

All kinds of laws and police regulations were broken by the men, women and children forming the almost endless bread lines, but the sun most easily broke lines, but the sun

CANDIDATES TO USE AIRPLANES

WINNIPEG, Man., July 2.—Airplanes, used for advertising purposes, will feature the election campaign of the members of the Manitoba government, who will seek re-election under the leadership of Premier Norris this summer. This unique method of conducting electioneering is new and is claimed by officials of the Norris movement to be the first attempt to use it in the world. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer in the present cabinet, recently took a flight over Winnipeg and expressed himself as highly delighted with the possibilities of airplanes in the campaign.

Two machines are already engaged in the enterprise. They will touch at least one town in every constituency. Campaign literature will be dropped from the airplane as it circles over the town. After landing, the government supporter in the machine will address the crowd that gathers to meet it. Supporters of Premier Norris are enthusiastic over the scheme.

The machines at present engaged display an appeal urging voters to support the present government.

URGE CHINESE TO BURY THEIR DEAD

SHANGHAI, July 2.—Foreign residents of the Jesland and Kiaochow road districts have asked the municipal council of Shanghai to urge upon the Chinese authorities to bury a large number of coffins containing the remains of Chinese that had been left scattered about fields and vacant tracts of the two districts. The complaint grows out of the Chinese custom frequently of leaving their dead unburied for long periods.

When an old man brought a camp stool, he set it up on the sidewalk and stretched himself on it, a policeman arrested him and led him to the station house with his bed. The policeman first looked grave, then began to laugh when the offender explained he knew he might have to wait anywhere from 12 to 20 hours for his bread and had merely propped himself against fatigue. He was released and returned to his place in the line with his bed and the applause of the crowd.

Another group hired a barrel organ whose owner played popular melodies while the people waited with growing appetites and hollow stomachs. On the Calle de la Magdalena, a cobbler arrived carrying a stool, his tools and a pair of shoes, which he was able to sell and feel before his turn came to obtain a loaf.

Similar scenes were enacted day after day amid general hilarity until the municipal authorities decided to break up the big bread-lines by distributing loaves from a large number of centers. The danger was then over.

PILGRIMS STARTED FROM SOUTHAMPTON, AND NOT PLYMOUTH.

SAYS MAYOR KIMBER

SOUTHAMPTON, July 2.—Plymouth is not the only port connected with the sailing of the Pilgrim Fathers, says Mayor S. G. Kimber, of this city, in a letter to the newspapers.

"It was from the ancient port of Southampton that the famous Mayflower set sail on August 15, 1620, in company with a smaller vessel, the Speedwell," he says.

Owing to accidents the voyage was delayed by temporary stoppages, first at Dartmouth and then at Plymouth, and it was from the latter port that the Mayflower resumed her voyage alone.

This gives Plymouth a real claim to the honor in connection with the Pilgrim Fathers.

event but this claim should not be allowed to obscure the historic fact that it was Southampton which, the Pilgrim Fathers chose as their port of departure, that it was at Southampton that they made all preparations for the voyage and that it was from Southampton that they actually set sail for the new world.

REFUSES TO USE ANY SMALLER COIN THAN THE 25 CENT PIECE

DAWSON, Y. T., July 2.—Though luxury taxes call for small coins the Yukon Development League has rejected a proposal to introduce dimes and nickels into local circulation. Dawson never has had any smaller coin than the twenty-five cent piece and will to the honor in connection with the Pilgrim Fathers.

VINCENT MARTIN WINS

QUINCY, July 2.—Coliseum A.A. fans witnessed one of the fastest and most furious bouts fought here for some time when Vincent Martin of Cambridge was awarded a decision in 12 rounds over Willie Fitzsimmons of Chelsea for the New England featherweight championship. Last evening Martin proved himself the better man during the fight and in the eighth round he knocked Fitzsimmons down, but the Chelsea man was up in a minute and going strong.

The semi-final bout was between Tommy Marks of Charlestown and Frankie Munro of Brooklyn with the decision going to the Charlestown scrapper at the end of eight rounds.

IRISH PARLIAMENT SUPPORTS DE VALERA

DUBLIN, July 2.—It became known yesterday that the "Irish parliament" was in secret session here Tuesday and Wednesday and that decrees were passed authorizing the establishment of courts of justice and equity and courts of criminal jurisdiction. A national land commission was appointed. Another decree provides for the protection of persons occupying land against vexatious claims.

It was announced that the $1,000,000 international loan had been oversubscribed by $250,000 when the loan closed. The following message was sent to Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic": "The Dail Eireanna, assembled in full session at Dublin today, unanimously reaffirms the allegiance of the citizens of Ireland to your policy, expresses complete satisfaction with the work you have performed and relies with confidence upon the great American nation to accord recognition to the republic of Ireland, now in fact and law established."

MAN KILLED BY ONE-MAN CAR WAS FRANCIS T. BURKE OF CENTRALVILLE

Through the efforts of Medical Examiner T. B. Smith and the local police the body of the man who was killed by a one-man car in Merrimack street Sunday night was identified last night as that of Francis T. Burke, aged 31 years and residing at 591 Bridge street, the identification being made by his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Burke.

The first report was that the man was Eugene McCarthy, but a brother of Eugene McCarthy, John H. McCarthy, as that of his brother, Dr. Smith and the police later got in touch with Mrs. Burke, who positively identified the remains as those of her son, Francis T. The woman informed the police that her son was a steady worker, his last employment being at the city ledge in Braintree. He left home after dinner Sunday and did not return.

MAY LOSE AN EYE

LIQUOR RAIDERS LOST IN WOODS

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Medrie Cote of Monson, arrested on the charge of operating a big moonshine still in the Westhampton wilderness, was admitted to bail yesterday. He will be arraigned before United States Commissioner John L. Rice tomorrow morning.

Federal agents who made the raids said that the raiding party lost its way in the wilds of Pompein mountain. They were forced to abandon their automobile and walk 15 miles through jungles and underbrush to Cote's alleged stills.

The officers say they found 1000 gallons of mash and 20 gallons of finished moonshine whiskey. Five stills were in full operation, turning out 50 gallons of whiskey daily, the agents say.

Cote ran when he saw the officers, but was captured.

C.M.A.C. PILGRIMAGE

The annual pilgrimage of the C.M.A.C. at St. Joseph's cemetery will be held during the latter part of August or early part of September instead of in November as in previous years. The change, so it is said, will be made because in August or September the weather is much more favorable than in November.

The pilgrimage of the association is always a big event. It generally consists of a procession from the C.M.A.C. building in Pawtucket street to St. Joseph's church, where a Libera is chanted, followed by special services at the cemetery, where it is customary for one of the clergymen of the parish to deliver a sermon.

MONEY FOR ADDITION TO MANN SCHOOL

Commissioner George E. Marchand will introduce an order at next Tuesday's meeting of the municipal council to borrow $10,000 for the erection of an addition to the old Mann school in Broadway, to be used for Vocational school purposes.

The school committee asked the city council some time ago to make arrangements to increase the accommodations of the Vocational school before Sept. 1. For several years the work at the school has been handicapped by congested conditions.

It was originally suggested that one of the Higlow-Hartford mills in Market street be taken over for the purpose but the city council objected to this plan because of the expense involved. It was finally agreed to erect an addition to the present building to serve until the new high school is completed. Commissioner Marchand says that work will begin as soon as the loan is secured.
